His heart touched by a picture of a 3-year-old Pottstown area boy who hasn't seen his daddy, a released war prisoner, since he was 17 days old, Steven Kinasz, of 707 Beech street, empties his piggy bank to do his share to see that "that other little boy in the paper can see his daddy real soon."

The $1.95 that the child, who's not quite three himself, fished out of the piggy bank went to the Prisoner of War fund, which is aimed at sending the loved ones of the area's two released prisoners of war winging their way across the country to greet them when they land in California.

The other little boy is Patrick O'Connor, son of Army Capt. Joseph L. O'Connor.

Wants Other Boy To See His Daddy

A little Pottstown boy came to The Mercury office yesterday with $1.95 that he took from his piggy bank to give to the Prisoner of War fund so that, as he put it, "that other little boy in the paper can see his daddy real soon."

The little boy with the big heart is Steven Kinasz, 707 Beech street, who's not yet 3.

"That other little boy" is, of course, three-year-old Patrick O'Connor, who was only 17 days old when he last saw his father, Army Capt. Joseph L. O'Connor, Pottstown RD 4.

Captain O'Connor and Air Force Lieut. Frank J. Kuzmich, a Pottstown Senior High school graduate whose parents live on Congo road, near Gilbertsville, are the Pottstown area's two released prisoners of war.

Between them, they spent more than 1700 long, lonely, privation-filled days in Communist hands. They'll be landing in California soon.

Released prisoners of war have heard a lot of talk about how greatly their sacrifice is appreciated by the folks back home. This fund can be the Pottstown area's way of PROVING to them how the folks back home in the Pottstown area feel.

When the Pottstown area's released prisoners land in California, they'll find their loved ones there to greet them—flown across the country by the folks back home.

Most of the contributors were, as usual, the individuals whose contributions are not large by themselves but which, when added together, provide the backbone of the Pottstown area's reputation for open-heartedness.

One of the finest notes accompanying a contribution came from Mrs. Doris Roth, secretary-treasurer of the Dorcas Welfare society of the Kenhorst Boulevard Seventh-Day Adventist church, Reading.

After mentioning that the Reading group had heard of the Pottstown campaign, she wrote: "We realize that this amount ($5) is not large but hope it will swell the amount."

"We certainly hope and pray that The Mercury will achieve its goal and that these folks who are so anxious to see their long-lost soldier boys will be able to travel to California to greet them."

Richard Hauff, Royersford RD 1, wrote simply: "God speed to the prisoners of war."

A Pottstown woman wrote: "Am enclosing a check (and how I wish it were for a large sum) to help those veterans' loved ones to get to the West coast. If you publish names for acknowledgement, just print from a lucky ex-veteran's family. I hope you get over the top."

From Gilbertsville, a woman who signed her note "GI Bride" wrote: "I wish I could send you all the money you need but I can't, so I hope this little bit will help."

"I know what it's like to have your loved ones come home from Korea. My husband spent two years there, and even now is thousands of miles away."

Inside an envelope post-marked Boyertown was a contribution and this note: "From three lucky girls whose daddy could stay at home, thanks to fellows like O'Connor and Kuzmich."

Joe L. Bowen, local real estate broker, who spent a total of 17½ years in US armed forces, said in making his contribution:

"In World War II, with the Navy, I was in contact with quite a few prisoners of war who'd been captured by the Japanese. I've got a pretty good idea what they went through."

"Other Asiatic people, like the North Koreans and Chinese, are probably just as harsh in their treatment, so I figure these boys suffered, too. As far as I'm concerned, we can't do too much for them."

There is something in the air other than the smell of Autumn. That something isn't a flying saucer. It's a flock of birds.

Yes, birds - thousands of them. They roost near the home of Mrs. Harry C. Werner, 371 Kline avenue, Hanover Heights, between 6 and 7 p. m.

Mrs. Werner said the birds return every year, and can only be seen between those hours at night.

"They stay for about two weeks each year," she explained. "At the end of that period, they vanish."

She said she isn't sure what kind of birds they are.

4 CARS CRASH IN 2 MISHAPS ON HIGH STREET

Accidents Occur Within Short Time

In two separate accidents, four cars collided here early this morning within a short period of time.

In the first accident the driver of one car, Theodore Taylor, Reading, was traveling west along West High street when another car started making a left turn from an easterly direction.

The two cars collided about 1000 feet west of the Manatwamy creek on West High street.

The driver of the other car, Ray Henry, Pottstown RD 3, said he was making the turn at Pottsgrove Manor and didn't see the Taylor car.

Taylor's car received a smashed hood and right front fender. The Henry car had fender and windshield damage.

In the second accident, Arthur Johnson, 145 North Hanover street, had stopped to aid at the scene of the crash, when a car driven by Charles Molzen, Pottstown RD 1, collided with his.

Molzen's wife, Ruth, was treated at Memorial hospital for minor injuries.

Johnson's car was damaged in the rear while the Molzen car received extensive damage and had to be towed away.

The crash happened about 1:30 a. m.

RAILROAD CAR KILLS MAN

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11 (AP) — A railroad car killed Frank Stüsel, 26, of Midway, Washington county last night at the washing plant of the Champion Coal company.

Two thousand Pottstown area boys and girls have gone to the trouble of obtaining bicycle licenses required by borough ordinance, but the ones who didn't bother are just as well off, and are a quarter richer.

This situation was brought to light yesterday when it was learned many Pottstown public school children were told on the first day of school that they couldn't bring their bikes to school unless the bikes had license tags.

This rule was in accordance with long-standing instructions to teachers in charge of safety patrols at the elementary school.

The next day, the rule had to be rescinded. Boys and girls now can ride their bikes to school, with or without licenses.

The reason? Another mixup in the handling of the licenses, which is in charge of Police Chief James A. Laughhead.

TWO THOUSAND licenses were ordered. They cost a quarter. Two thousand licenses were issued, some of them to children living outside the borough.

The supply has been exhausted for several weeks, so any unlicensed bike owner can avoid prosecution by simply claiming he tried to get a license at borough hall, but there wasn't any to get.

One of the safety patrol leaders, Mrs. Bernice Wieand, a teacher at Franklin school, reported she had checked with police to learn when more licenses might be coming.

The police department didn't know, she was told. It had placed an order but didn't know when or whether it would be filled.

Police and other teachers expressed the private opinion that there would be no more licenses available until the new ones came next year.

THE BICYCLE licensing ordinance, applauded loudly by safety groups when it went into effect four years ago, has had a trouble-filled history.

In 1949, the issuance of the licenses was delayed for weeks, until photographs of Police Chief James A. Laughhead and Burgess William A. Griffith could be included in the booklets issued that year with the licenses.

That year, and in succeeding years, there were protests, too, about the wide discrepancies in the kind of bicycle inspections performed at different inspection points.

In 1950, the number of licenses issued fell from the first year's 2150 to 1372—but no violators were picked up.

As the cool nights continue, Pottstonians and area residents have become a little more appreciative about the weather.

No longer do they point to the hot sun and cast remarks in its direction or seek the refreshing waters of their backyard splash pools, but rather they rest comfortably during the day and sleep restfully at night.

Although yesterday's sun was fairly warm, the temperature indicated that it was an average day, even at the hottest point.

Climbing from a cool 52 degrees at 7 a. m., the mercury hit its peak around 4 p. m. when it reached 76 degrees.

As for today, the weatherman predicts a little change in temperature despite scattered showers and thunderstorms. He said it would be partly cloudy, turning cooler toward night.

With regard to tomorrow's weather, he calls for partly cloudy skies, rather windy and cooler.

Club Gets Own Car For Driver Training

The Pottstown Auto club will now have a car of its own for its adult driver-training classes.

Horace Hughes, secretary-manager of the club, said yesterday that the firm of Nagle Motors, 1340 High street, has donated a car to the club for these classes.

The classes were conducted all Summer, but the car of the school system's driver-training classes was used.

Instruction in this program is given by Earl and Jack Strange, teachers in local schools, after school hours.

Applicants can sign up for instruction at the Pottstown Auto club High street offices.

Stuck in the Mud? Councilmen Find Ointment Wears Out While Sting Stays

Council's highway committee last night spent a lot of its time trying to rub away the bruise of a biting editorial with a compound of jokes and chuckles.

Through the two-hour session, during which a variety of subjects were discussed but not acted upon, the effect of the editorial printed in yesterday's Mercury was almost always evident.

The editorial blasted councilmen for "being so cheap."

It resulted from action taken at Wednesday's airport committee meeting during which the committee told Airport Manager John Tracy that he could go ahead and build seven hangars.

The hangars would be built, however, with voluntary "donated" labor and from funds advanced by airplane owners who'd pay their rental fees for a year and a half ahead of time.

THE EDITORIAL referred to Pottstown's "stuck-in-the-mud councilmen" and to the "pompous borough fathers."

"I think that was a very fine editorial," Councilman Paul Kohler smiled as the meeting got underway last night. Especially the part about the crazy-quilt streets," he said, looking over towards Councilman Paul Marshall, chairman of the highway committee.

"What makes you think you were left out," Marshall called back, "it said 'stuck-in-the-mud councilmen'."

Everybody laughed good-naturedly.

LATER THE ISSUE was brought up again by Kohler when he re-

CATHOLICS SET SCHOOL OPENING

St. Aloysius Pupils To Start Term Monday

Classes at Aloysius parochial school will begin on Monday, although renovations there are not yet complete.

A new principal will be in charge when school opens. She is Sister Mary Norbertina, who comes here from the parish of St. Mary Magdeline, Lost Creek, Schuylkill county.

She replaces Sister Philomena, who was transferred to Orwigsburg to head a Catholic orphanage.

The new principal will teach Eighth grade in addition to administering the school.

THE NINTH GRADE, being added this year for the first time, will have over 40 pupils, the Rev. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius church, estimated last night.

"Registration is still going on in all grades," he explained. "We may still have more."

Five hundred are registered for the other eight grades, he revealed. Children of other parishes are included in this number.

Sister Ventura will teach the Ninth grade, with the Rev. George P. Hiller, assistant rector of the church, as instructor in religion.

TEACHERS of the other grades are as follows:

Sister Mary Claudia, Grades 1 and 2; Sister Alice Claire, Grade 3; Sister Rita Estelle, Grade 2; Sister Kathleen William, Grade 1; Mrs. P. William Marshall, Grade 4; Sister Mary Faith, Grade 5; Sister Ave Maria, Grade 6; and Sister Cecelia Joseph, Grade 7.

Burglars Dip Into Feed Barrel Find More Than Chicken Feed

Burglars dipped into a feed barrel in the Sunshine Feed store, Laurel and Franklin streets, and came away with a lot more than chicken feed, it was discovered yesterday. They got $308 in cash and $149 in checks.

The cash and checks were in a green money bag in a half-filled feed barrel. Plainclothesman Lewis M. Borgiet noted there were 32 other, similar barrels near it, but door leading to the chute was unsafe.

Entry was made through a little door on the south side of the mill. The door leads to a chute, and the chute leads to a trap door opening onto the mill floor where the 33 barrels are kept.

The plainclothesman theorized that the burglars may have left through a garage door. The small burglars broke in and entered the

Ethelbert Barnard, the manager, reported that the store had closed at 5:45 p. m. Thursday. He discovered the money bag missing on his arrival at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, when he notified police.

It was the second major burglary at the feed store. Three years ago, burglars broke in and entered the

Phoenixville RD 1 Man Charged by Army

FT. MEADE, Md., Sept. 11 (AP)—A court martial has been set for Sept. 22 for a Phoenixville RD 1 Army psychiatrist accused of failing to obey an order, but his attorney said today he would seek a continuance.

The Army charges that Lt. Norman Ackerman, 28-year-old psychiatrist, refused the past April to vacate quarters his family occupied at Fort Jay in New York harbor.

Attorney Fred E. Weisgal, of Baltimore, who is representing the officer, said his defense will be that the order was improperly given and it was impossible to comply because Mrs. Ackerman was ill at the time and under a physician's instructions to stay in bed.

Ackerman had been transferred to Valley Forge, but the Government had provided no quarters to which he could move his family.

The couple has three children, including a set of twins, and Mrs. Ackerman was expecting another baby.

Ackerman appeared before a military court Wednesday for preliminary proceedings on charges he failed to obey the order of a superior.

So mail your contribution today to the Prisoner of War fund, Pottstown Mercury, Pottstown, Pa. Or bring it to The Mercury office in person today or tomorrow.

RUBBING AWAY THE BRUISES

Stuck in the Mud? Councilmen Find Ointment Wears Out While Sting Stays

Council's highway committee last night spent a lot of its time trying to rub away the bruise of a biting editorial with a compound of jokes and chuckles.

Through the two-hour session, during which a variety of subjects were discussed but not acted upon, the effect of the editorial printed in yesterday's Mercury was almost always evident.

The editorial blasted councilmen for "being so cheap."

It resulted from action taken at Wednesday's airport committee meeting during which the committee told Airport Manager John Basco that he could go ahead and build seven hangars.

The hangars would be built, however, with voluntary "donated" labor and from funds advanced by airplane owners who'd pay their rental fees for a year and a half ahead of time.

THE EDITORIAL referred to Pottstown's "stuck-in-the-mud councilmen" and to the "pompous borough fathers."

It also referred to Pottstown's "patched-up, crazy-quilt streets," and said that "Pottstown is sliding backward to the 1890's when it condones anything like the Basco plan."

"I think that was a very fine editorial," Councilman Paul Kohler smiled as the meeting got underway last night. Especially the part about the crazy-quilt streets," he said, looking over towards Councilman Paul Marshall, chairman of the highway committee.

"What makes you think you were left out," Marshall called back. "It said 'stuck-in-the-mud councilmen.'"

Everybody laughed good-naturedly.

LATER THE ISSUE was brought up again by Kohler when he re-

St. Aloysius Pupils To Start Term Monday

Classes at Aloysius parochial school will begin on Monday, although renovations there are not yet complete.

A new principal will be in charge when school opens. She is Sister Mary Norbertina, who comes here from the parish of St. Mary Magdalene, Lost Creek, Schuylkill county.

She replaces Sister Philomena, who was transferred to Orwigsburg to head a Catholic orphanage.

The new principal will teach Eighth grade in addition to administering the school.

THE NINTH GRADE, being added this year for the first time, will have over 40 pupils, the Rev. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius church, estimated last night.

"Registration is still going on in all grades," he explained. "We may still have more."

Five hundred are registered for the other eight grades, he revealed. Children of other parishes are included in this number.

Sister Ventura will teach the Ninth grade, with the Rev. George P. Hiller, assistant rector of the church, as instructor in religion.

Sister Mary Claudia, Grades 1 and 2; Sister Alice Claire, Grade 3; Sister Rita Estelle, Grade 2; Sister Kathleen William, Grade 1; Mrs. P. William Marshall, Grade 4; Sister Mary Faith, Grade 5; Sister Ave Maria, Grade 6; and Sister Cecelia Joseph, Grade 7.

Burglars Dip Into Feed Barrel Find More Than Chicken Feed

Burglars dipped into a feed barrel in the Sunshine Feed store, Laurel and Franklin streets, and came away with a lot more than chicken feed, it was discovered yesterday. They got $308 in cash and $149 in checks.

The cash and checks were in a green money bag in a half-filled feed barrel. Plainclothesman Lewis M. Borgiet noted there were 32 other, similar barrels near it, but door leading to the chute was unsafe.

It was the only one disturbed.

Entry was made through a little door on the south side of the mill. The door leads to a chute, and the chute leads to a trap door opening onto the mill floor where the 33 barrels are kept.

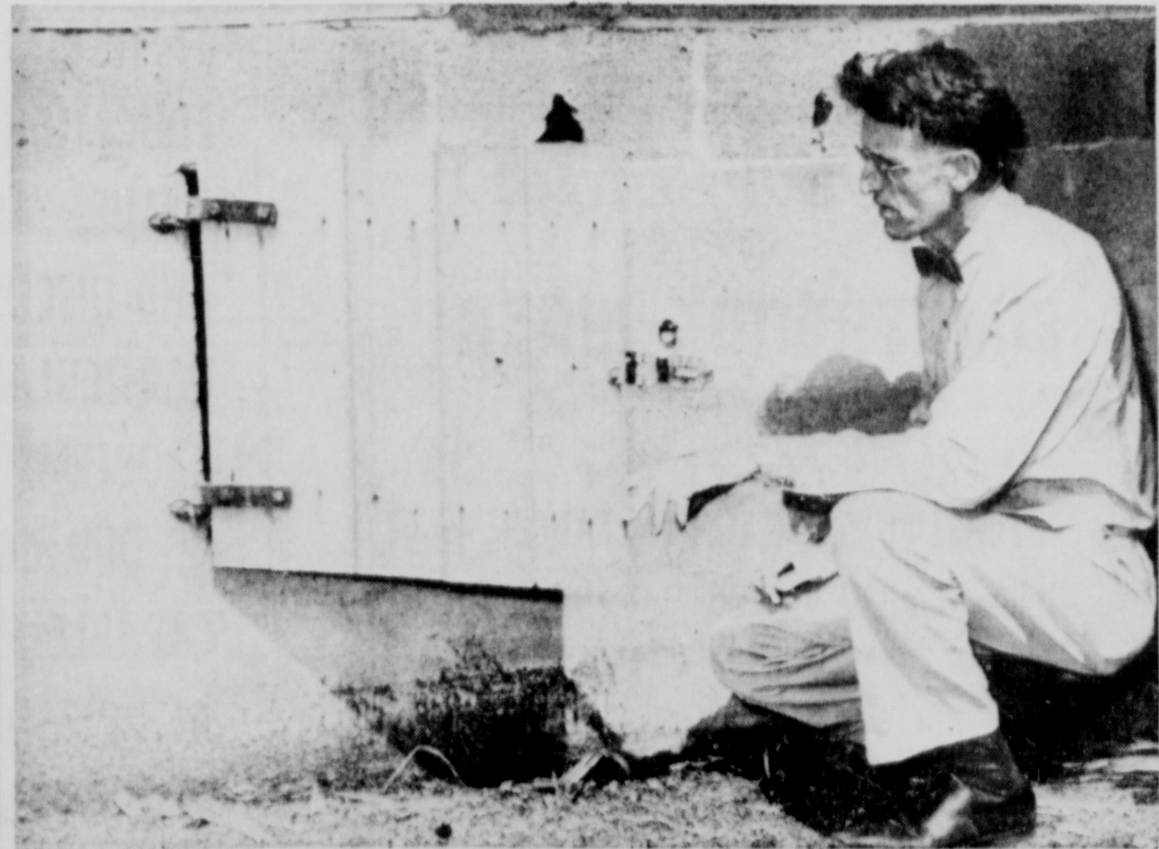

The plainclothesman theorized that the burglars may have left through a garage door. The small burglars broke in and entered the locked, he noted, and was closed only by a peg in a hasp.

Ethelbert Barnard, the manager, reported that the store had closed at 5:45 p. m. Thursday. He discovered the money bag missing on his arrival at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, when he notified police.

It was the second major burglary at the feed store. Three years ago, the burglars broke in and entered the

OFFICER FACES COURT MARTIAL

Phoenixville RD 1 Man Charged by Army

FT. MEADE, Md., Sept. 11 (AP)—A court martial has been set for Sept. 22 for a Phoenixville RD 1 Army psychiatrist accused of failing to obey an order, but his attorney said today he would seek a continuance.

The Army charges that Lt. Norman Ackerman, 28-year-old psychiatrist, refused the past April to vacate quarters his family occupied at Fort Jay in New York harbor.

Attorney Fred E. Weisgal, of Baltimore, who is representing the officer, said his defense will be that the order was improperly given and it was impossible to comply because Mrs. Ackerman was ill at the time and under a physician's instructions to stay in bed.

Ackerman had been transferred to Valley Forge, but the Government had provided no quarters to which he could move his family. The couple has three children, including a set of twins, and Mrs. Ackerman was expecting another baby.

Ackerman appeared before a military court Wednesday for preliminary proceedings on charges he failed to obey the order of a superior.

Supervisors Postpone Meeting Until Wednesday

The Upper Frederick supervisors, who were scheduled to meet this morning, have postponed their meeting until Wednesday night.

Time for the postponed session was set for 8 o'clock in the church school at Obelisk with Chairman Godfried L. Franke presiding.

TAFT - HARTLEY STILL POLITICAL 'HOT POTATO'

AFL's George Meany Sides With Durkin In Controversy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Cabinet-shaking controversy over proposals to change the Taft-Hartley law—a political hot potato for six years—seemed further from solution than ever today after prompting the resignation of Secretary of Labor Durkin.

Durkin, who quit yesterday in protest against the Eisenhower Administration's policy toward the Taft-Hartley law, went back to his job as president of the AFL Plumber's union.

Durkin, a Democrat, resigned with a charge that the Administration reneged on promises he said were made to him to recommend certain changes sought by labor unions in the labor-management law.

Meanwhile, the Labor department was being run by Lloyd A. Mashburn, the department's under-secretary. Like Durkin, he is a lifelong AFL union official, and a former California state labor commissioner. Mashburn indicated he would stay on as long as Eisenhower wanted him.

THE T-H LAW has been enmeshed in politics almost since its enactment in mid-1947. Union leaders have constantly clamored for its repeal or at least substantial revision. Management groups have generally taken the position the law is working well and should remain unchanged.

Eisenhower, after promising during his campaign to make the law more acceptable to management and labor, instructed Durkin to seek an agreement on changes that the administration could recommend to Congress.

Durkin told reporters yesterday that after more than six months of bickering he got what he felt was an agreement with Eisenhower's advisers. But he said that later he became convinced the administration was not going to live up to this agreement, and he therefore was quitting.

Whether Eisenhower considered he ever made an agreement with Durkin on the matter has not been made clear. AFL President George Meany sided with Durkin, saying he "could not continue serving on a team where agreements are not kept."

Durkin declined to specify the points on which he considered he had agreement. But they were reported to be substantially the same as the suggested amendments contained in a proposed message to Congress. The message was prepared for Eisenhower but never actually sent to Capitol Hill. However, it "leaked" to newsmen and promptly drew complaints from management circles that it favored the unions too much.

Contestants Tension Mounts in Battle For 'Miss America'

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Tension was tight as a bathing beauty's swim suit tonight as 52 girls got their last chance to win points in the Miss America pageant.

When tonight's third and final preliminary was over, the judges sharpened pencils and started figuring out the ten girls who piled up the most points in the three contests.

Names of the top ten will be announced tomorrow as the girls who will then fight it out for the title of "Miss America of 1954" and $50,000 worth of awards.

Four girls sailed into the last preliminary with confidence that came from winning on two previous nights.

Miss South Dakota (Delores Jerde, Spearfish), the live wire blonde who won the talent show last night, competed in the swim suit division tonight. Miss Wyoming (Elaine Lois Holkenbrink, Torrington), also a blonde, moved from her triumph in a swim suit over to the evening gown competition.

ASSAILANT TRIES TO KILL SULTAN

Would - Be Assassin Slain on Spot By Guards

RABAT, Morocco, Sept. 11 (AP)—A native house painter tried vainly today to kill the new sultan of Morocco by running him down with a junky old automobile. The sultan's guards slew the assailant on the spot.

Mouley Mohammed Ben Arafat, 64, whom France enthroned as nominal ruler of this French North African protectorate three weeks ago, was riding his white Arabian horse from his palace to the Tourange mosque for Moslem Sabbath prayers when he was attacked.

The house painter, identified by French police as Allal Bo Abdallah, 28, gunned a 23-year-old convertible into the crowd and guards surrounding the sultan.

His first attempt to get through the milling mass failed. He charged again.

This time the crowd gave way and he smashed into the sultan's horse, knocking it down with the sultan and breaking one of its legs. Then his car stalled.

A GUARDSMAN who was off duty but happened to be present jumped on the running board. He said the driver had a butcher knife in his hand.

The sultan's guard quickly closed around the car and killed Abdallah with a hail of bullets.

The bearded sultan got up from the ground calmly. Told that his horse was injured, he walked the few remaining steps to the mosque.

French police indicated they regarded the assassination attempt as a personal rather than a political matter. They did not disclose whether Abdallah was an Arab or a Berber.

The Berber tribesmen, who are mostly farm and mountain dwellers, backed the French in putting Arafat on the throne to succeed his second cousin, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef.

'Problem Drinkers' Study Reported by Center

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP)—A study of 50 "problem drinkers" has disclosed that a majority are "responsible and worthwhile citizens of the community," it was announced today.

The Alcoholism Information and Consultation center is in charge of J. Arthur Hincheliffe, who reported first findings to Health Commissioner Carl A. Wilzbach.

Almost half of the 43 men and seven women who are problem drinkers have steady jobs. More than half are living with their wives or husbands.

A majority of the drinkers studied "had been on benders ranging from three days to five weeks" and were trying to stop, it was said in the report. Several needed medical care.

US Army Department Blasts Release Of Portions of 1952 'Restricted' Report

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Army accused Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today, without specifically naming him, of releasing portions of a "restricted" report used in training its intelligence officers.

McCarthy fired back that no Government agency is going to "hide dishonesty, corruption or Communism by stamping it secret or restricted."

The 1952 report dealt with conditions and thinking in Russia, and McCarthy contends it is 95 percent Red propaganda.

As chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has been looking into security and alleged Communist infiltration in the Army department, McCarthy released photographic copies of 70 of the 75 pages of the report to reporters Wednesday.

IN IT, the Army said in a formal statement today, was information affecting the National defense of the United States "within the meaning of the espionage laws" and:

"The transmission or revelation of its contents in any manner to an unauthorized person is prohibited by law," it added.

The Army didn't say anything about prosecution, and it is deemed unlikely that any such course would be pursued against a member of Congress in these circumstances. Unauthorized disclosure of classified information is punishable by a $10,000 fine and up to ten years in prison.

The Army and the senator sized up the report in widely conflicting fashion.

McCarthy CHARGED Wednesday it was "clear-cut Communist propaganda" and anyone believing it would be inclined to move to Russia. The Army said reading the report would refute any contention it was Communist propaganda.

Somewhere in the middle is Senator Dirksen (R-Ill.) a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, who says he isn't sure yet whether the report is Red propaganda.

McCarthy said the report went to 37 US Army commands the past year. The Army said it was intended for distribution on a limited basis to intelligence officers "to develop understanding of the Soviet people which will be militarily useful in case of war."

"It is obvious," the Army said "that the necessary instruction of officers and men in this field cannot proceed without attempting to enter the mind and thought processes of the Soviet citizen."

The report itself showed it was prepared by the Far East command and said its purpose was to bring out Soviet vulnerabilities in the event of war and the occupation of Siberia.

ATTACK ON BOAT IS PROTESTED

Britain Sends Note to Red China on Incident

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Britain fired a protest to Red China today against a Communist gunboat's attack that killed seven Britons and wounded five aboard a naval launch on patrol out of Hong Kong.

Orders went to the British envoy in Peking, Charge D'Affaires Humphrey Trevelyan, to tell Mao Tse-tung's Government just what this Nation thinks about the action Wednesday in international waters at the mouth of the Pearl river southwest of the crown colony.

The foreign office did not disclose the contents of the note at once. But the government of Prime Minister Churchill, an old seafarer himself, probably told the Chinese the attack was murder. Officials said Britain certainly does not intend to stand by idly and watch that sort of thing happen again.

Red guns blasted 12 shots into the 72-foot launch as it cruised on a regular anti-smuggling and defense patrol. Only two of the 14-man crew escaped injury. The launch was so crippled it never could return the fire. Among those killed was a reserve Army captain who had gone along just for the ride.

Mrs. John Wayne's Car Is Auctioned Off

VAN NUYS, Calif., Sept. 11 (AP)—Mrs. John Wayne's car was auctioned off today to satisfy unpaid liquor and grocery bills.

Mrs. Clyde W. Strieb of nearby Clynco got it for $3125 by outbidding a couple of unidentified policemen.

The city marshal supervised the auction after a grocery store obtained a $2191 judgment for unpaid bills.

The estranged wife of the movie star, who has a suit for separate maintenance pending, has to get along on $1100 monthly after the plea for $9280 a month temporary alimony was recently rejected.

Since her car was attached, she's been traveling in a pickup truck.

Lucille Ball Registered as Communist Voter in 1936 But Not Party Member

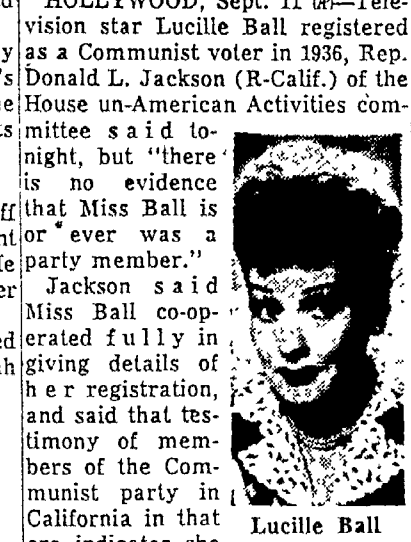

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11 (AP)—Television star Lucille Ball registered as a Communist voter in 1936, Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) of the House un-American Activities committee said tonight.

Ball not only had registered as a Communist voter, but had been designated as a member of the State Central committee of the party in 1936.

"The committee is departing from its usual procedure so that fact may be separated from rumor, and no damage be done Miss Ball," Jackson said.

THE ACTRESS admitted registering to vote for the Communist party, but said she never actually had cast a ballot as a Communist. Jackson said Miss Ball denied that she ever had been a member of the Communist party.

Jackson said that although his committee had known of Miss Ball's registration for several years, she was interrogated only a week ago. He said it was unlikely that the disclosure would have been made if rumors about Miss Ball hadn't got around.

'General That Nobody Knows' Named Supreme Commander in Far East

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower brushed aside the Army's big-name generals today and chose "the general that nobody knows" to be Supreme Commander in the Far East.

He is big, handsome Gen. John Edwin Hull, 58, who has been little known outside Army circles despite the behind-the-scenes influence he has wielded over the years.

Once at a party one of Hull's friends said: "How is it, Ed, that your name is never in the headlines?"

Hull grinned and replied: "I'm just the general that nobody knows."

But Eisenhower and top-ranking Army men knew him so well that he was named to succeed Gen. Mark Clark when he retires on Oct. 30. At present he is vice chief of staff of the Army.

Ever since he left Miami university at Oxford, Ohio, back in 1917 to join the Army and give up a medical career, Hull has been a background man. This was so much so that when President Eisenhower named him to succeed Clark, newsmen began a scramble to find out who he was.

It was pretty much the same thing when Hull played center for the Miami football team. He was "Steady Ed" in the line—but the backfield grabbed the headlines.

ONE OF HULL's old coaches once wrote a letter saying: "Ed Hull was one of the steadiest players I ever saw in football. He never made a bad pass from center in all the games he played. He was the player the coaches watched—but most reporters didn't see him because he was always on the bottom of the pile."

There was none of the old-school influence in Eisenhower's selection because Hull never attended the US Military academy. He went from Miami university into the Army when World War I broke out—and after the war decided to make the Army his career.

It was while he was in Miami university that he met and became engaged to Lucille Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis of Middleport, Ohio. She was then attending Western university in Oxford.

They were engaged when Hull left school in 1917 to accept a commission as second lieutenant in the Infantry reserve. He got his regular Army commission in October of the same year and the following Summer went to France with the Fourth Infantry division.

Hull fought in the Aisne-Marne offensive and later the St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne offensives. He won a Silver star for gallantry in action.

And then the war was over and he came home to marry Lucille Davis.

Hull decided to give up the medical career he had planned and to stay in the Army.

Notables from many walks of life joined fellow-townsmen, some of them in denim, in the final tribute to the 63-year-old jurist at the 102-year-old Louisa Methodist church.

Besides the some 600 who filled the church where Vinson worshiped as a boy, an estimated 2000—equal to the town's population—heard the ceremony as it resounded with hollow echo from loud speakers in the town square.

The Rev. Charles Perry, a part-time school teacher, said the service, taking for his text: "Moses, my servant, is dead; now therefore, arise, go over this Jordan, thou; and all this people, unto the land, which I do give to them..." (Joshua 1:2).

"The fact that Moses died," said the pastor, "gave new responsibility to others... to give themselves to the task for which their leader died."

"We must arise," he continued, "and go over the Jordan."

REUTER SAID that, since the death of Stalin and the June 17 uprisings in East Germany, "I am feeling much better" about the outlook here.

"It is not our task, in the East, zone, to organize direct resistance. We need not send over agents and foment trouble. That is stupid and childish."

Chief Justice Vinson Buried Near Home After Simple Rites

LOUISA, Ky., Sept. 11 (AP)—Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, after a simple 19-minute funeral service, went to his rest today on a hill commanding a broad sweep of the Big Sandy valley which was his home.

Life joined fellow-townsmen, some of them in denim, in the final tribute to the 63-year-old jurist at the 102-year-old Louisa Methodist church.

600 US Clergymen 'Secret' Members Of Communist Party, Ex-Reds State

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Testimony that 600 or more American clergymen are "secret" members of the Communist party, and 3000 or 4000 others are in "the fellow-traveling category," was made public today by the House un-American Activities committee.

The testimony was given the past July in closed committee sessions in New York city by admitted former Communist leaders.

Although the New York meetings ostensibly were called to probe Communism in the New York area—and the printed hearings were identified as such—they dealt almost exclusively with alleged Communist infiltration of religion.

Meanwhile, Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee said two New Yorkers—one a teacher, the other a magazine editor—had been described by other witnesses as active participants in "an effort to establish a Communist cell in Catholic organizations."

The two were identified as Harold King, teacher, and Thomas Davin, editor.

JENNER GAVE no indication whether the alleged Red plot, which dated back a dozen years or so ago, was successful.

The figures on the number of clergymen allegedly active in the Communist movement were given by Joseph Zack Kornfeder, 56-year-old native of Slovakia. Kornfeder said he joined the Communist party in 1919, was active in its councils in New York, New Jersey and Ohio, and quit the party in 1934.

The plan to inject Communism slyly into religion, Kornfeder told the House committee, was conceived by high Communists when they discovered that they couldn't beat religion from the outside.

"They created a thing that became known as the living church movement," he said, and it was based "on the idea of interpreting the teachings of Christ and the apostles in a way that would serve to a large extent Communist purposes."

"The general idea is to move from the spiritual concept to the materialistic one and to make the church an instrument of social strife," he explained. "That is the psychological approach in this kind of an operation of working from inside of the church, and I may say that it was rather effective."

SOVIET POLICY IS WAVERING, ASSERTS MAYOR

Reuter Declares German Problem Ready for Settlement

BERLIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—Ernest Reuter, mayor of West Berlin, said today Soviet policy is wavering and he believes the powder-keg problem of a divided Germany will be settled without war.

"The day must come," Reuter said in an interview, "when they (the Russians) realize they can't digest East Germany."

He said he couldn't gauge when that day will be, "but they are thinking it over now."

Reuter said he is convinced "the Soviets do not want a war, and can't afford one." The problem now may very well be for the West to find some face-saving solution for the Kremlin, he added.

The mayor is in a unique position to observe and analyze Soviet moves.

His city government stands as a Western outpost, an island in a sea of Soviet-occupied territory. He has daily contacts with persons coming in from East Germany. Moreover, he has been a lifelong student of Russia and the policies and methods of her rulers.

REUTER SAID that, since the death of Stalin and the June 17 uprisings in East Germany, "I am feeling much better" about the outlook here.

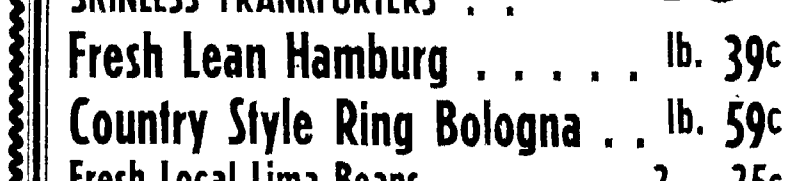

"It is not our task, in the East, zone, to organize direct resistance. We need not send over agents and foment trouble. That is stupid and childish."

Arab 'Feminine Front' To Boycott Perfumes

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 11 (AP)—The newly organized Arab "feminine front" called on all Arab women today to boycott French perfumes in protest against France's policies in North Africa.

The front comprises women's associations of the Middle East and is headed by Doria Shafik, a leading Egyptian advocate of votes for women.

The front said perfumes are France's main export to the Arab world and that any Arab woman using French perfumes now "would be committing a crime against the Arabs."

The house painter, identified by French police as Allal Bo Abdallah, 28, gunned a 23-year-old convertible into the crowd and guards surrounding the sultan.

His first attempt to get through the milling mass failed. He charged again.

This time the crowd gave way and he smashed into the sultan's horse, knocking it down with the sultan and breaking one of its legs. Then his car stalled.

A GUARDSMAN who was off duty but happened to be present jumped on the running board. He said the driver had a butcher knife in his hand.

The sultan's guard quickly closed around the car and killed Abdallah with a hail of bullets.

The bearded sultan got up from the ground calmly. Told that his horse was injured, he walked the few remaining steps to the mosque.

French police indicated they regarded the assassination attempt as a personal rather than a political matter. They did not disclose whether Abdallah was an Arab or a Berber.

The Berber tribesmen, who are mostly farm and mountain dwellers, backed the French in putting Araf on the throne to succeed his second cousin, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef.

'Problem Drinkers' Study Reported by Center

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP)—A study of 50 "problem drinkers" has disclosed that a majority are "responsible and worthwhile citizens of the community," it was announced today.

The Alcoholism Information and Consultation center is in charge of J. Arthur Hinchcliffe, who reported first findings to Health Commissioner Carl A. Wilzbach.

Almost half of the 43 men and seven women who are problem drinkers have steady jobs. More than half are living with their wives or husbands.

A majority of the drinkers studied "had been on benders ranging from three days to five weeks" and were trying to stop, it was said in the report. Several needed medical care.

US Army Department Blasts Release Of Portions of 1952 'Restricted' Report

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Army accused Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today, without specifically naming him, of releasing portions of a "restricted" report used in training its intelligence officers.

McCarthy fired back that no Government agency is going to "hide dishonesty, corruption or Communism by stamping it secret or restricted."

The 1952 report dealt with conditions and thinking in Russia, and McCarthy contends it is 95 percent Red propaganda.

As chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has been looking into security and alleged Communist infiltration in the Army department, McCarthy released photographic copies of 70 of the 75 pages of the report to reporters Wednesday.

IN IT, the Army said in a formal statement today, was information affecting the National defense of the United States "within the meaning of the espionage laws" and:

ATTACK ON BOAT IS PROTESTED

Britain Sends Note to Red China on Incident

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Britain fired a protest to Red China today against a Communist gunboat's attack that killed seven Britons and wounded five aboard a naval launch on patrol out of Hong Kong. Orders went to the British navy in Peiping, Charge D'Affaires Humphrey Trevelyan, to tell Mao Tse-Tung's Government just what this Nation thinks about the action Wednesday in international waters at the mouth of the Pearl river southwest of the crown colony.

The foreign office did not disclose the contents of the note at once. But the government of Prime Minister Churchill, an old seafarer himself, probably told the Chinese the attack was murder. Officials said Britain certainly does not intend to stand by idly and watch that sort of thing happen again.

Red guns blasted 12 shots into the 72-foot launch as it cruised on a regular anti-smuggling and defense patrol. Only two of the 14-man crew escaped injury. The launch was so crippled it never could return the fire. Among those killed was a reserve Army captain who had gone along just for the ride.

Lucille Ball Registered as Communist Voter in 1936 But Not Party Member

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11 (AP)—Television star Lucille Ball registered as a Communist voter in 1936, Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) of the House un-American Activities committee said tonight, but "there is no evidence that Miss Ball is or ever was a party member."

Jackson said Miss Ball co-operated fully in giving details of her registration, and said that testimony of members of the Communist party in California in that era indicates she had no role in the party.

"The then chairman of the Communist party State Central committee has testified he never met Miss Ball and has no personal knowledge of her membership or attendance at a Communist party state convention in 1936," Jackson said.

"Other co-operative witnesses have been interviewed, and none has been able to identify Miss Ball as a party member during the period in question."

Jackson said the committee received information that Miss Ball not only had registered as a Communist voter, but had been designated as a member of the State Central committee of the party in 1936.

"The committee is departing from its usual procedure so that fact may be separated from rumor, and no damage be done Miss Ball," Jackson said.

THE ACTRESS admitted registering to vote for the Communist party, but said she never actually had cast a ballot as a Communist. Jackson said Miss Ball denied that she ever had been a member of the Communist party.

Jackson said that although his committee had known of Miss Ball's registration for several years, she was interrogated only a week ago. He said it was unlikely that the disclosure would have been made if rumors about Miss Ball hadn't got around.

'General That Nobody Knows' Named Supreme Commander in Far East

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower brushed aside the Army's big-name generals today and chose "the general that nobody knows" to be Supreme Commander in the Far East.

He is big, handsome Gen. John Edwin Hull, 58, who has been little known outside Army circles despite the behind-the-scenes influence he has wielded over the years.

Once at a party one of Hull's friends said: "How is it, Ed, that your name is never in the headlines?" Hull grinned and replied: "I'm just the general that nobody knows."

But Eisenhower and top-ranking Army men knew him so well that he was named to succeed Gen. Mark Clark when he retires on Oct. 30. At present he is vice chief of staff of the Army.

Ever since he left Miami university at Oxford, Ohio, back in 1917 to join the Army and give up a medical career, Hull has been a background man. This was so much so that when President Eisenhower named him to succeed Clark, newsmen began a scramble to find out who he was.

It was pretty much the same thing when Hull played center for the Miami football team. He was "Steady Ed" in the line—but the backfield grabbed the headlines.

ONE OF HULL's old coaches once wrote a letter saying: "Ed Hull was one of the steadiest players I ever saw in football. He never made a bad pass from center in all the games he played. He was the player the coaches watched—but most reporters didn't see him because he was always on the bottom of the pile."

There was none of the old-school tie influence in Eisenhower's selection because Hull never attended the US Military academy. He went from Miami university into the Army when World War I broke out—and after the war decided to make the Army his career.

It was while he was in Miami university that he met and became engaged to Lucille Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis of Middleport, Ohio. She was then attending Western university in Oxford.

They were engaged when Hull left school in 1917 to accept a commission as second lieutenant in the Infantry reserve. He got his regular Army commission in October of the same year and the following Summer went to France with the Fourth Infantry division.

Hull fought in the Aisne-Marne offensive and later the St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne offensives. He won a Silver star for gallantry in action.

And then the war was over and he came home to marry Lucille Davis.

600 US Clergymen 'Secret' Members Of Communist Party, Ex-Reds State

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—King, teacher, and Thomas Davin, testimony that 600 or more American clergymen are "secret" members of the Communist party, and which dated back a dozen years or so ago, was successful.

The figures on the number of clergymen allegedly active in the Communist movement were given by Joseph Zack Kornfeder, 56-year-old native of Slovakia. Kornfeder said he joined the Communist party in 1919, was active in its councils in New York, New Jersey and Ohio, and quit the party in 1934.

The plan to inject Communism into religion, Kornfeder told the House committee, was conceived by high Communists when they discovered that they couldn't beat religion from the outside.

"They created a thing that became known as the living church movement," he said, and it was based "on the idea of interpreting the teachings of Christ and the apostles in a way that would serve to a large extent Communist purposes."

"The general idea is to move from the spiritual concept to the materialistic one and to make the church an instrument of social strife," he explained. "That is the psychological approach in this kind of an operation of working from inside of the church, and I may say that it was rather effective."

SOVIET POLICY IS WAVERING, ASSERTS MAYOR

Reuter Declares German Problem Ready for Settlement

BERLIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—Ernest Reuter, mayor of West Berlin, said today Soviet policy is wavering and he believes the powder-keg problem of a divided Germany will be settled without war.

He said he couldn't gauge when that day will be, "but they are thinking it over now."

Reuter said he is convinced "the Soviets do not want a war, and can't afford one." The problem now may very well be for the West to find some face-saving solution for the Kremlin, he added.

The mayor is in a unique position to observe and analyze Soviet moves. His city government stands as a Western outpost, an island in a sea of Soviet-occupied territory. He has daily contacts with persons coming in from East Germany. Moreover, he has been a lifelong student of Russia and the policies and methods of her rulers.

REUTER SAID that, since the death of Stalin and the June 17 uprisings in East Germany, "I am feeling much better" about the outlook here.

STUCK IN MUD —

ferred to the statement the committee had been talking about fixing bad intersections for years without fixing them.

"Sounds like we're back in the 1890's," he said, and again the councilmen laughed, casting anxious glances toward the press table.

"You know, Paul," Marshall said, "I think YOU wrote that editorial. I noticed you didn't say anything at that airport meeting. You just came in and crossed your arms and didn't say anything all night. I bet you wrote it yourself."

Councilmen J. Wayne Knause, Gus Schade, and John Frain laughed loudly.

Still later in the meeting Kohler wanted to bring up the subject again and explained why the borough's streets were in such bad shape by saying, "Well, we're all muck-heads . . . no, what was it that editorial said we were?"

The press helped him. "Stuck-in-the-muds, that's right," and he laughed. But the ointment was starting to wear out and apparently the stung was still there.

SEVERAL WEAKER attempts were made by various councilmen through the night to shake off the pesky ache.

But with each attempt the laughs sounded more hollow.

Finally it was dropped. The business conducted was routine. Bids were open on the project of repainting the fence and sledge-drying beds at the sewage disposal plant.

Three bids were opened but the awarding of them will be postponed until next week after a legal question can be cleared with the Borough Solicitor.

DONALD WOODLEY, the borough's garbage contractor, complained that storm waters were flooding his yard after every storm.

The councilmen told him they'd look into it.

Next came the question of renewing an insurance policy covering the airport that was taken out originally for the air show the past summer.

The councilmen decided not to renew it, however, since the same responsibilities that face the borough at the airport face it all over town.

It was brought out by Knause that the finance committee was currently investigating the question of liability insurance for the borough.

THE COMMITTEE closed one short, dirt road, running from Woodland avenue to the Country club property. It was closed so that houses could be built on the site.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden then gave a short financial report on the highway department's budget funds, which showed that $8000 allotted for new equipment was still unspent.

This set councilmen to talking about the various pieces of machinery that could be purchased—including leaf-loaders (for loading dead leaves).

From there, they went on to talk about equipment for snow removal.

Paul Kohler brought an end to the discussion by asking the borough manager to get hold of literature on various kinds of equipment so that councilmen could brush up on the latest items out.

The session wound up with various complaints about the poor condition of various intersections in the borough.

Chairman Marshall and Gulden will look into them today along with other complaints.

350 Worshipers Attend Services Held at Mercy and Truth Synagog

The day of the New Year ended for Pottstown's Jewish community at sundown yesterday.

About 350 worshipers attended services in Mercy and Truth synagog during the day. It was the second day of Rosh ha-Shonoh.

Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of Congregation Mercy and Truth, preached on the topic, "Sacrifice and Survival," at the morning service.

The role of religion in education was his theme. "True education demands the infusion of lofty ideals," he said, "ideals provided by religion."

HOW to apply these ideals in today's complex life is the problem people now face, the rabbi pointed out.

Referring to his sermon topic, Dr. Schorsch spoke of Abraham and his willingness to sacrifice his son to God.

The Rev. H. G. Blatt, cantor, conducted devotions at the service. Those who sang in the choir

at the service were Nathan P. Hoffman, Irving Horwich, Mrs. George Berman, Mrs. Sol Berger, Mrs. Morris Hoffman, Mrs. Sidney Pollock, Mrs. Bertha Stein and Mrs. Emil Schorsch.

The Shofar (traditional ram's horn) was sounded between the two parts of the morning service by Dr. Schorsch.

ANOTHER shorter service was held in the synagog at sundown. Yesterday was the second day of the year 5714 on the Jewish calendar. There still remain eight days of the solemn penitential period ushered in the past Wednesday at sundown.

Sabbath services will be held in the synagog today at 9 a. m. Tomorrow services will begin at 8 a. m.

Daily services in the synagog will be held Monday through Friday at 7 a. m.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement is the last of the High holidays. It will begin at sundown on Friday.

Seabrook Farms Expects to Surpass All Previous Production Records

BRIDGETON, N. J., Sept. 11 — Seabrook Farms, the completely integrated farming-freezing operation in Southern New Jersey that always has accounted for a major slice of the nation's quick-frozen vegetable pack, expects to top all previous production records in its 1953 pack. The company has been quick-freezing a wide variety of garden vegetables for 21 years.

The past year's production topped 90 million pounds. The raw materials came from 50,000 acres of crops, 19,000 of which were produced by the company's own agricultural operations. The remainder came from 1167 independent growers producing crops to meet freezing specifications.

Seabrook Farms is the most highly mechanized vegetable-producing unit in the US having a fleet of 175 tractors, 500 trucks and hundred of specialized farm machinery units.

Peas, lima beans, spinach and asparagus head the list of crops whose course is plotted in an exacting time table, from the planting of the seed, through the progress of the plant to ripeness, to harvesting at the precise moment when all factors of flavor, texture and color are optimum. Large quantities of corn, snap beans, broccoli, beets, cauliflower and other vegetables and fruits are included in the farming schedule.

SEABROOK Farms operates at peak production capacity for eight and a half months a year, from April through mid-December. However, maintenance, storage, shipping, administration and production of non-seasonal products such as french fried potatoes and chicken a la king occupy a large year-round labor force.

Nearly a thousand family dwelling units located near the freezing plant are available to employees. A policy of the company endeavors to have at least one member of these resident families occupying a year-round job, with plenty of seasonal employment for the other members, including women.

The present labor force includes about 900 remaining Japanese-Americans from the group of 2500 working at Seabrook Farms at the end of World War II; 1500 displaced persons from many European countries, as well as hundreds of local residents from nearby areas.

How does it feel to be an "in-between"? These Eighth graders at Warwick Consolidated school could probably tell you. They're at the stage now when they probably feel too big for the elementary school and not quite old enough for senior high school.

Teacher Glenn Pounds, (front row, left) helps smooth them over this impatient period. With him in first row are, left to right, Harvey McBall, John Bauer, Allen Bozorth, Edna Keeley, Judy Griffith, Roger Care, Eugene Yelk, Leonard Good and Kenneth Harris.

Second row, same order, Lois Wilson, Audrey White, Peggy Hoffman, Nora Dowhnick, Betty Dautrich, Estella McBall and Robert Raser.

Third row, Josephine Bloise, Ruth Pidcock, Margaret Dietz, Arlene Musser, Mary Bollinger and Gladys Foreman.

ferred to the statement the committee had been talking about fixing had intersections for years without fixing them.

"Sounds like we're back in the 1890's," he said, and again the councilmen laughed, casting anxious glances toward the press table.

"You know, Paul," Marshall said, "I think YOU wrote that editorial. I noticed you didn't say anything at that airport meeting. You just came in and crossed your arms and didn't say anything all night. I bet you wrote it yourself."

Councilmen J. Wayne Knause, Gus Schade, and John Frain laughed loudly.

Still later in the meeting Kohler wanted to bring up the subject again and explained why the borough's streets were in such bad shape by saying, "Well, we're all muckle-heads... no, what was it that editorial said we were?"

"The press helped him," "Stuck-in-the-muds, that's right," and he laughed. But the ointment was starting to wear out and apparently the sting was still there.

SEVERAL WEAKER attempts were made by various councilmen through the night to shake off the pesky ache.

But with each attempt the laughs sounded more hollow.

Finally it was dropped.

The business conducted was routine. Bids were open on the project of repainting the fence and sledge-driving beds at the sewage disposal plant.

Three bids were opened but the awarding of them will be postponed until next week after a legal question can be cleared with the Borough Solicitor.

DONALD WOODLEY, the borough's garbage contractor, complained that storm waters were flooding his yard after every storm.

The committee told him they'd look into it.

Next came the question of renewing an insurance policy covering the airport that was taken out originally for the air show the past summer.

The councilmen decided not to renew it, however, since the same responsibilities that face the borough at the airport face it all over town.

It was brought out by Knause that the finance committee was currently investigating the question of liability insurance for the borough.

THE COMMITTEE closed one short, dirt road, running from Woodland avenue to the Country club property. It was closed so that houses could be built on the site.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden then gave a short financial report on the highway department's budget funds, which showed that $9000 allotted for new equipment was still unspent.

This set councilmen to talking about the various pieces of machinery that could be purchased—including leaf-loaders (for loading dead leaves).

From there, they went on to talk about equipment for snow removal.

Paul Kohler brought an end to the discussion by asking the borough manager to get hold of literature on various kinds of equipment so that councilmen could brush up on the latest items out.

The session wound up with various complaints about the poor condition of various intersections in the borough.

350 Worshipers Attend Services Held at Mercy and Truth Synagog

The day of the New Year ended for Pottstown's Jewish community at sundown yesterday.

About 350 worshipers attended services in Mercy and Truth synagog during the day. It was the second day of Rosh ha-Shonah.

Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of Congregation Mercy and Truth, preached on the topic, "Sacrifice and Survival," at the morning service.

The role of religion in education was his theme.

"True education demands the infusion of lofty ideals," he said, "ideals provided by religion."

HOW to apply these ideals in today's complex life is the problem people now face, the rabbi pointed out.

Referring to his sermon topic, Dr. Schorsch spoke of Abraham and his willingness to sacrifice his son to God.

at the service were Nathan P. Hoffman, Irving Horwich, Mrs. George Berman, Mrs. Sol Berger, Mrs. Morris Hoffman, Mrs. Sidney Pollock, Mrs. Bertha Stein and Mrs. Emil Schorsch.

The Shofar (traditional ram's horn) was sounded between the two parts of the morning service by Dr. Schorsch.

ANOTHER shorter service was held in the synagog at sundown. Yesterday was the second day of the year 5714 on the Jewish calendar. There still remain eight days of the solemn penitential period ushered in the past Wednesday at sundown.

Sabbath services will be held in the synagog today at 9 a. m. Tomorrow services will begin at 8 a. m.

Daily services in the synagog will be held Monday through Friday at 7 a. m.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement is the last of the High holidays. It will begin at sundown on Friday.

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in Him will I trust.—Psalm 91:2.

Taxes Are Too LOW!
KICK this one around a bit:
Maybe you aren't paying enough local taxes!
That assertion may sound absurd, but there's a possibility you aren't paying enough to get all the services, like streets and street lighting, police and fire protection and garbage collection, you're getting—or griping for!
How much do you figure it's worth to get
the services the borough of Pottstown offers?
Would you pay $1.25 a month, considering what you make and spend, for all the services the borough provides?
Certainly, you say. That's a drop in the bucket. You throw more than that away
for incidentals every week!
Right you are. But from now on, don't gripe about your Pottstown borough taxes.
Because, on the average, that's all you pay
to keep your local government going!

Break down some figures, and you'll see
for yourself.
In 1952, the borough of Pottstown collected almost $345,000 in taxes from real estate, occupation and per capita levies. The real estate levy of 15 mills was $250,629.38;
occupation, $17,680.98 and per capita, $76, 627.74.
We don't want to bother you with too many figures, but that means every one of Pottstown's 23,000 persons paid on an average of $15 a year in taxes, or just $1.25 a month! That's every man, woman, and child.
Oh, yes, we know. The average household contains four, according to government experts. So that means the average family pays $6 a month in borough taxes. Worth it?
Now, don't get confused. This is the borough taxes—for streets, for lights, for garbage collection, for protection of person
and property.
School taxes is another thing. And that's usually where the grippers yipe loudest.
They don't seem to realize that while all taxes are collected at borough hall, two-thirds of the amount collected goes to the school district. The borough gets only one-third. It can't spend any of the school district's money!
Certainly, taxes aren't popular. But when you figure that in these days of $15,000 homes, $500 television-sets and $2500 automobiles, there's quite a bargain in taxes of $1.25 a month.
Yes, you can yell about school taxes and income taxes being excessively high. Agreed.
They are. But you're not fair with your local government.
Twenty-five years ago, 55 cents of every tax dollar went to local governments. Today only 12 cents stays home.
And you want better streets, better police protection and more lights. Speaking of lights, do you know it costs $30 a year for ONE STREET LIGHT? Some taxpayers are said to pay less a year than it costs to burn
one street light!

What's the answer? If you want better borough services, you'll have to pay for them, possibly like an additional tax for garbage collection.
Taxes aren't popular. Nor is talk of increased taxes. So this editorial won't strike
a responsive chord with many except the civic minded. But when you gripe again about high borough taxes, remember you don't pay enough at $1.25 a month!

Take a Look at Tie-Racks
THIS has been called National Tie Week.
From today on.
It's going to be a hot week, and turned down collars may be the style. But the national tie folks expect you to wear a cravat.
Darn!
The real, 100 percent all-wool necktie week,
however, is the week before Christmas.
That is the week in which the ladies descend on the haberdashers to buy ties—gift ties—in quantities and designs that men
would never dream of.
But, of course, there is no point in promoting neckties at a time when they are going over the counters faster than they will ever go around necks.
Or maybe the necktie people actually are altruistic. Maybe they are trying to give men a chance to select enough ties of their own choice so well in advance of Ladies' Tie Week that the ladies themselves may be persuaded to abandon the Christmas atrocities.
We will keep an eye on the tie counters for a week. If they present a generally conservative tone, we will accept the altruism
them gaudier than Gauguin.

PUNKIN CORNERS,
September 11.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where world series tickets this year have gone up to $10 a copy for box seats. That
'ust about puts the old beat-up grandstand in the same class as Opera's
"Diamond Horseshoe!"

Standing room at the series remains at $4, which is still as tough on the pocketbook as it is on the feet!

And say: The St. Louis Browns are so deep in the American league cellar it may take a team of excavators to move 'em to another city!

Hopin' you air the same,

Bicycles a Menace on Sidewalks Here

Enforcement Lax
To the Editor: What is being done about the enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting of bicycle riding on Potts-town's sidewalks?
There is a definite menace to the safety of pedestrians.
While walking along the east end of High street recently, I was almost knocked down by a youngster on a bicycle.
I stopped him and demanded to know why he was riding on the sidewalk. He said his mother told him not to ride on the street. Too dangerous she said.
Too dangerous! Doesn't she realize that a person could be seriously hurt, or crippled when a fast-moving bicyclist
rams into him?
Surely the police chief should do something about enforcing the law. I realize there is no point in demanding the burgess do something. Everyone knows of his do-nothing policy.
Pottstown JUMPY-PEDESTRIAN

Calls for Action
To the Editor: I have never heard of such impudence in all my life.
While I was walking along Hanover street the other day, two little girls were riding along on bicycles at a fast rate.
They yelled, "Look out!"
If I hadn't jumped out of the way in time, I'd surely have been knocked to the pavement.
I've been told that there's an ordinance forbidding bicycle-riding on sidewalks.
Isn't it time something be done about ending this menace, before there's a tragedy?
Pottstown READER

Bicyclists a Menace
To the Editor: Do you want to know
of something more dangerous than trees
leaning out onto North Franklin street?
The danger is in children riding
bicycles along local sidewalks.
I've noticed an increase in the number of children riding their bicycles on sidewalks since school opened here.
Of course there's a danger in their riding bicycles on the streets, but isn't there just as great a menace to the safety of the pedestrian for whom the sidewalks were built?
Let's keep your children from riding
their bicycles on sidewalks, mothers.
Pottstown YOUNG MOTHER,

Against Beauty Shows
To the Editor: I can't see why there is so much hullabaloo about men and
or women wearing shorts.
It amazes me how a person can get all excited over another individual trying to be comfortable in hot weather and then sit idly by while we have these shameful "Miss This" and "Mrs. That" contests being conducted in this supposedly moral country.
If the truth were told I'll wager that it is the very ones that decry the wearing of shorts by decent girls in Pottstown who go and pay good money to ogle the disgusting posturing in one-piece bathing suits that goes on at these revolting exhibitions.
Why are they permitted to continue
year after year giving the youth of the country a false sense of what is worthwhile and what is not in this land.
Let's not patronize them and they will be forced to quit. They are nothing but crass commercialism that causes untold damage to the imaginative minds of teen-agers.

Pottstown INDIGNANT

Not to Be Pitied
To the Editor: All I want to say is that Ima Payne (Hooray for School, Readers Say, Sept. 10) gives me a big pain.
It is people like this one that make
this world so bad to live.
I guess when Ima was a child there
were never any noises.
I have three small boys and I know
as well as anyone else that children can not be kept completely quiet.
If children ruin your property, see
the parents; don't hate children.
Anyone who expresses their feelings,
like Ima did, probably has the children
hating her as much as she hates them.

Loiterers Still Here
To the Editor: Not long ago, the police said they'd planned to crack down on all these loiterers along High street.
That's very interesting.
I have only to walk along High street
to point out how this loitering is still going on.
Almost every evening of the week,
there are certain young men who drape themselves on the steps of a certain fraternal order's building.
They yell and whistle whenever they see young women like me walking along.
It makes one feel very humiliated.

WASHINGTON
US May Return Land Grabbed For States
By RAY TUCK
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Uncle Sam's land-grabbing proclivities are now under scrutiny by several top Eisenhower agencies, and property worth hundreds of millions of dollars may eventually be returned to the dwindling tax rolls of complaining states, counties and cities.
It will be an indirect form of tax-reduction to millions of individuals.
The vast holdings, which comprise an area almost three times the size of Texas and ten times the area of New England's six states, have been accumulated in a haphazard, unbusinesslike way. There has never been a central, land-coordinating agency at Washington. Until now, there has never been a survey to obtain a cost-and-loss inventory.
Uncle Sam is, perhaps, the only landlord who does not know how much property he owns, where it is located, how much it is worth, or how much he can turn back to its original owners with mutual benefits.
A special panel of the Hoover Reorganizing commission is now studying the problem, and will report to the next session of Congress. The committee set up by Eisenhower to examine Federal-State relationships has also tackled it.

VAST US HOLDINGS: The Interior department has been the principal agent in the acquisition of land, buildings and equipment. In the 11 Western states, it now holds more than 80 percent of the total area, reaching as high as 85 percent in Nevada.
Under its conservation policy, the Department of Interior has appropriated forests, grazing and mineral land, vast water-power resources, National parks, etc.
It has constantly increased its domain in the last 20 years on the ground that the Government must thwart ruthless and predatory exploitation by the "interests."
In the process, however, it has sometimes expanded simply for the sake of power and expansion. It has irrigated worthless land, and caused heavy losses to homesteaders, including veterans. It has adopted a dog-in-the-manger attitude toward needed, private development of these locked-up resources, according to its critics.

LAND-GRABBERS: Federal, landlordism, once only a Western concern, has now become a National problem as a result of defense expansion during and since World War II.
The military rank second only to Interior as Washington's most rapacious land-grabbers, especially along the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific seaboard. And they resort to court-martial tactics when they take it into their head that they need property, giving no consideration to local interests, public or private.
From Maine to Miami, on the coast and inland to great depth, they have commandeered choice sites.
They harass such important industries as fishing, shipping, beach resorts, recreation, valuable real estate developments, and coastal plants. They bid up prices for land required by communities for their water supply, suburban outlets, parks and schools.
Opponents of a review and revision of Uncle Sam's holdings denounce it as a "giveaway" program. It may be a major political issue next year, especially in the West, which gave all its electoral votes to Ike the past year.
Democrats count on it as a winning issue. But the Hoover group believe they will find millions of dollars worth of property which should not have been rendered unto Caesar.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

SAM W., is a brilliant college graduate.
"Dr. Crane, he has been a wonderful boy," his worried mother said.
"He always made the highest grade in his classes. And he was also very active in the church."
"In fact, he once thought he might go into the ministry. But all of a sudden, he has changed."
"During the past six months he refuses even to attend church. He claims
he is an atheist."
"And he pals around with another boy exclusively. His father doesn't know what I am telling you, but Sam apparently is a homosexual."
"At any rate, I have read some of the letters which this other boy has written Sam. And they sound just like the saccharine love letters you'd expect a girl to write to the boy she loves."
"SAM HAS met this other boy at neighboring cities, such as Cleveland.
Then they take a room together."
"Dr. Crane, I'm about to go crazy,
so I have come to you just to get this off my chest."
"For I am afraid to tell Sam's father,
yet I don't know what to do. Is there any hope for my son? Can a homosexual
be cured?"
"And don't you think this abnormal attachment for this other boy is what makes Sam stay away from church?"
Yes, the usual atheist is either denying God as a belated protest at his own excessively religious childhood.
Or he feels he is guilty of violating God's laws, so subconsciously tries to resolve his conflict by eliminating God.

ADULT HOMOSEXUALITY is simply an extension of a normal stage in our emotional development. For at the age of 10 to 12, we are usually fondest of our own sex.
Boys then have little interest in girls.
And girls regard boys as a nuisance or a pest. This is the normal homosexual stage.
But maybe 90 percent of our young people soon reach the heterosexual stage in emotional growth. That's when they grow "sweet" on some member of the opposite sex, and carve entwined hearts
on tree trunks with their initials.
Sam can change by resolutely going through the process of dating an attractive girl. For love can be developed, broken and then re-developed with a more desirable mate.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OUR LAND of plenty, famous for its high income level and overweight individuals, has produced countless Americans who have poorly balanced diets and poorer eating habits.
A recent study showed that only about 5 percent of the diets consumed were adequate in all food essentials.
According to the findings, a large portion of the food eaten was grossly inadequate in calcium and vitamin B2 or riboflavin.
The intake of these substances is only satisfactory when approximately three cups of milk are consumed; yet only 28 percent of the adults drank as much as two or more cups daily.
It seems that those in the middle-income group ate more adequate diets than those in the high or low income group.
A nutritionally inadequate diet can cause damage to the tissues surrounding the teeth. It has been found that diseased gums can sometimes be effectively restored to their normal state by massage and the giving of adequate amounts of vitamins and minerals.
In order to prevent diseases of the gums, an adequate diet must be consumed.
It has been found that these tissues are helped by eating certain types of food. A good breakfast is important.
Some form of the animal proteins, such as milk, eggs, or meat, should be included in every meal, including breakfast. Omitting breakfast is unwise.
Many persons think of milk as a beverage rather than a food, and that is unfortunate. Adults should drink milk as part of their food and be sure that each day enough vitamins and minerals are supplied to help insure good health.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

No Bread Wednesdays . . . April in September . . .

★ THINGS TO COME—Look for bread-less Wednesdays starting later this month. Well, not exactly breadless, because you'll be able to pick up the staff
of life. But beginning September 23,
Schulz Baking company and the Prince Bakery will be on a five-day week, and they will not make home deliveries on Wednesdays. So be sure to stock up beginning that week, because there'll be no door-to-door service . . . Another September date you may want to remember is the 26th. It's the 65th birthday of Bill Boyer, the Western Union manager.
One of the best known of Pottstowners,
Boyer has been a bread man, an ice
man, and now is rounding out 40 years
with his company (and still not ready to

WHERE'S THE CALENDAR?—
RICHARD GAUS, Pottstown RD 3,
had to think back for a second several days ago to recall just what season of the year it was. No, he told himself, it wasn't Spring with Easter just around the corner. But sure enough, there was an Easter lily
blooming in his garden. The Evans road resident is now keeping tabs on the plant which has sprouted four blooms. It is one of last year's plants, Evans said, and bloomed this Spring. He's enthused about the Easter lily, if slightly puzzled. "It's the first I ever saw them blooming
in September," he says.

★ OFF TO INDIA—David J. Hoh was only a little child when he lived in Pottstown in the 1930's, when his father, the Rev. Ernest H. J. Hoh, was pastor of St. James Lutheran church. Tomorrow, he'll be commissioned for service as a foreign missionary. He received a call from the Foreign Mission board of the United Lutheran Church in America to take up work in India. Right now, the board is having some difficulty getting visas for new ministerial missionaries to enter India, but it's confident the difficulty soon can be overcome. Hoh will be commissioned at a 7:30 p.m. service in Lancaster's Emmanuel Lutheran church, of which his father now is pastor. He'll be commissioned by Dr. Earl Erb, executive secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions. He's a graduate of Muhlenberg college, Allentown, and of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia.

IN TOUR—Three local "tin-liz-
zies" or "puddle-jumpers" as they were known in days gone by will be given another chance to prove their worth come Monday. For when Monday rolls around, they will join some 297 makes of antique automobiles at Cleveland, where a five-day tour will begin that will take them to Greenfield Village in Dearborn,
Mich. Their drivers, WILLIAM J.
BODEN JR., ERNEST HUNTER and WILLIAM POLLOCK are quite enthusiastic about the whole thing.
Boden will be driving a 1909 White touring car; Hunter a 1912 Ford
roadster, and Pollock a 1907 Chadwick touring car. All cars are expected to make the run under their own power.

★ ALL DONE TOGETHER—Six Pottstown area young men, who were in the draft contingent that left Pottstown the past Spring, all have completed their basic training with the tank company
of the 200th Infantry regiment at Camp
Atterbury, Ind. They are Pvt. Leon
Kadunce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max
Kadunce, Pottstown RD 4; Daniel P.
Stercula, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stercula, 457 Beech street; Thomas Reider,
son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reider, 755
Sheridan street; Donald H. Mace, son of
Mr. and Mrs. George K. Mace, 617
Chestnut street; Howard Bowden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowden, 244 Oak street, and Robert E. Kelly, son of Mr.
and Mrs. Joseph A. Kelly Sr., 856 South
street. Mace, Reider, Bowden and Stercula attended Pottstown Senior High school before entering the Army. The married men in the group are Reider,
whose wife, Peggy, lives at 427 Laurel street, and Bowden, whose wife, Barbara, lives at 637 North Charlotte street.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1953

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in Him will I trust.—Psalm 91:2.

Taxes Are Too LOW!

KICK this one around a bit:
Maybe you aren't paying enough local taxes!

That assertion may sound absurd, but
there's a possibility you aren't paying enough
to get all the services, like streets and street
lighting, police and fire protection and garbage collection, you're getting—or griping for!

How much do you figure it's worth to get
the services the borough of Pottstown offers?

Would you pay $1.25 a month, considering what you make and spend, for all
the services the borough provides?

Certainly, you say. That's a drop in the bucket. You throw more than that away
for incidentals every week!

Right you are. But from now on, don't
gripe about your Pottstown borough taxes.
Because, on the average, that's all you pay
to keep your local government going!

Break down some figures, and you'll see
for yourself.

In 1952, the borough of Pottstown collected almost $345,000 in taxes from real estate, occupation and per capita levies. The real estate levy of 15 mills was $250,629.38;
occupation, $17,680.98 and per capita, $76, 627.74.

We don't want to bother you with too
many figures, but that means every one
of Pottstown's 23,000 persons paid on an average of $15 a year in taxes, or just $1.25 a month! That's every man, woman, and child.

Oh, yes, we know. The average household contains four, according to government
experts. So that means the average family pays $6 a month in borough taxes. Worth it?

Now, don't get confused. This is the borough taxes—for streets, for lights, for garbage collection, for protection of person
and property.

School taxes is another thing. And that's usually where the grippers yipe loudest.
They don't seem to realize that while all
taxes are collected at borough hall, two-thirds of the amount collected goes to the school district. The borough gets only one-third. It can't spend any of the school district's money!

Certainly, taxes aren't popular. But when
you figure that in these days of $15,000 homes, $500 television sets and $2500 automobiles, there's quite a bargain in taxes of $1.25 a month.

Yes, you can yell about school taxes and income taxes being excessively high. Agreed.
They are. But you're not fair with your local government.

Twenty-five years ago, 55 cents of every tax dollar went to local governments. Today only 12 cents stays home.

And you want better streets, better police protection and more lights. Speaking of lights, do you know it costs $30 a year for ONE STREET LIGHT? Some taxpayers are said to pay less a year than it costs to burn
one street light!

What's the answer? If you want better borough services, you'll have to pay for them,
possibly like an additional tax for garbage
collection.

Taxes aren't popular. Nor is talk of increased taxes. So this editorial won't strike
a responsive chord with many except the civic minded. But when you gripe again about high borough taxes, remember you don't pay enough at $1.25 a month!

Take a Look at Tie-Racks

THIS has been called National Tie Week.
From today on.

It's going to be a hot week, and turned down collars may be the style. But the national tie folks expect you to wear a cravat.
Darn!

The real, 100 percent all-wool necktie week,
however, is the week before Christmas.
That is the week in which the ladies descend on the haberdashers to buy ties—gift
ties—in quantities and designs that men
would never dream of.

But, of course, there is no point in promoting neckties at a time when they are going over the counters faster than they will ever go around necks.

Or maybe the necktie people actually are altruistic. Maybe they are trying to give men a chance to select enough ties of their own choice so well in advance of Ladies' Tie
Week that the ladies themselves may be persuaded to abandon the Christmas atrocities.

We will keep an eye on the tie counters for a week. If they present a generally conservative tone, we will accept the altruism
them gaudier than Gauduin.

Bicycles a Menace on Sidewalks Here

Enforcement Lax

To the Editor: What is being done
about the enforcement of the ordinance
prohibiting of bicycle riding on Potts-
town's sidewalks?

There is a definite menace to the safety of pedestrians.

While walking along the east end of High street recently, I was almost knocked down by a youngster on a bicycle.

I stopped him and demanded to know
why he was riding on the sidewalk. He said his mother told him not to ride on the street. Too dangerous she said.

Too dangerous! Doesn't she realize that a person could be seriously hurt, or crippled when a fast-moving bicyclist
rams into him?

Surely the police chief should do something about enforcing the law. I realize
there is no point in demanding the burgess do something. Everyone knows of his do-nothing policy.

Pottstown JUMPY-PEDESTRIAN

Calls for Action

To the Editor: I have never heard of
such impudence in all my life.

While I was walking along Hanover
street the other day, two little girls were riding along on bicycles at a fast rate.
They yelled, "Look out!"

If I hadn't jumped out of the way in time, I'd surely have been knocked to the pavement.

I've been told that there's an ordinance forbidding bicycle-riding on sidewalks.

Isn't it time something be done about ending this menace, before there's a tragedy?

READER

Bicyclists a Menace

To the Editor: Do you want to know
of something more dangerous than trees
leaning out onto North Franklin street?

The danger is in children riding
bicycles along local sidewalks.

I've noticed an increase in the number of children riding their bicycles on sidewalks since school opened here.

Of course there's a danger in their
riding bicycles on the streets, but isn't there just as great a menace to the safety of the pedestrian for whom the sidewalks were built?

Let's keep your children from riding
their bicycles on sidewalks, mothers.

Against Beauty Shows

To the Editor: I can't see why there is so much hullabaloo about men and
or women wearing shorts.

It amazes me how a person can get
all excited over another individual trying to be comfortable in hot weather and then sit idly by while we have these shameful "Miss This" and "Mrs. That"
contests being conducted in this supposedly moral country.

If the truth were told I'll wager that it is the very ones that decry the wearing of shorts by decent girls in Pottstown who go and pay good money to ogle the disgusting posturing in one-piece
bathing suits that goes on at these revolting exhibitions.

Why are they permitted to continue
year after year giving the youth of the country a false sense of what is worthwhile and what is not in this land.

Let's not patronize them and they will be forced to quit. They are nothing but crass commercialism that causes untold damage to the imaginative minds of teen-agers.

INDIGNANT

Not to Be Pitied

To the Editor: All I want to say is
that Ima Payne (Hooray for School, Readers Say, Sept. 10) gives me a big
pain.

It is people like this one that make
this world so bad to live.

I guess when Ima was a child there
were never any noises.

I have three small boys and I know
as well as anyone else that children can not be kept completely quiet.

If children ruin your property, see
the parents; don't hate children.

Anyone who expresses their feelings,
like Ima did, probably has the children
hating her as much as she hates them.
In that case she isn't to be pitied.

Loiterers Still Here

To the Editor: Not long ago, the police said they'd planned to crack down on all these loiterers along High street.

That's very interesting.

I have only to walk along High street
to point out how this loitering is still going on.

Almost every evening of the week,
there are certain young men who drape
themselves on the steps of a certain fraternal order's building.

They yell and whistle whenever they
see young women like me walking along.
It makes one feel very humiliated.

The hot gossip from Washington predicts former Veep Alben Barkley will make big news soon . . . When Hugh Martin walked out in a huff at Judy Garland on the "Star Is Born" set and flew back to New York, Judy's quote was: "I didn't try to stop him. There's no room in my life any more for temperament."

The gazettes said Marilyn Monroe's apartment was burglarized, but wasn't it Mr. Joe Di-Maggio's domicile?
The drama critics in Bermuda should have covered Diana Barrymore's performance on the opening night of "Macbeth" instead of Charlton Heston's. Minus lingerie and not caring who knew it, Diana outshouted Shakespeare's lines and bothered the staid British colony far more than the hurricanes.

Since their fight at the Polo Grounds,
both Carl Furillo and Leo Durocher have received letters threatening them with death. It hasn't given either one of them a nervous breakdown.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

SAM W., is a brilliant college graduate.

"Dr. Crane, he has been a wonderful boy," his worried mother said.

"He always made the highest grade
in his classes. And he was also very active in the church.

"In fact, he once thought he might go into the ministry. But all of a sudden, he has changed.

"During the past six months he refuses even to attend church. He claims
he is an atheist.

"And he pals around with another boy exclusively. His father doesn't know what I am telling you, but Sam apparently is a homosexual.

"At any rate, I have read some of the letters which this other boy has written Sam. And they sound just like
the saccharine love letters you'd expect
a girl to write to the boy she loves.

"SAM HAS met this other boy at
neighboring cities, such as Cleveland.
Then they take a room together.

"Dr. Crane, I'm about to go crazy,
so I have come to you just to get this
off my chest.

"For I am afraid to tell Sam's father,
yet I don't know what to do. Is there any hope for my son? Can a homosexual
be cured?

"And don't you think this abnormal attachment for this other boy is what makes Sam stay away from church?"

Yes, the usual atheist is either denying God as a belated protest at his own excessively religious childhood.

Or he feels he is guilty of violating God's laws, so subconsciously tries to resolve his conflict by eliminating God.

ADULT HOMOSEXUALITY is simply an extension of a normal stage in our emotional development. For at the age of 10 to 12, we are usually fondlest of our own sex.

Boys then have little interest in girls.
And girls regard boys as a nuisance or
a pest. This is the normal homosexual
stage.

But maybe 90 percent of our young people soon reach the heterosexual stage
in emotional growth. That's when they grow "sweet" on some member of the opposite sex, and carve entwined hearts
on tree trunks with their initials.

Sam can change by resolutely going through the process of dating an attractive girl. For love can be developed,
broken and then re-developed with a more desirable mate.

MAN OF MOUNTAIN

No Bread Wednesdays . . .
April in September . . .

★ THINGS TO COME—Look for bread-
less Wednesdays starting later this month. Well, not exactly breadless, because you'll be able to pick up the staff
of life. But beginning September 23,
Schulz Baking company and the Prince Bakery will be on a five-day week, and they will not make home deliveries on Wednesdays. So be sure to stock up beginning that week, because there'll be no door-to-door service. . . . Another September date you may want to remember is the 26th. It's the 65th birthday of Bill Boyer, the Western Union manager.
One of the best known of Pottstonians,
Boyer has been a bread man, an ice
man, and now is rounding out 40 years
with his company (and still not ready to
Birthday."

WHERE'S THE CALENDAR?—
RICHARD GAUS, Pottstown RD 3,
had to think back for a second several days ago to recall just what season of the year it was. No, he told himself, it wasn't Spring with Easter just around the corner. But
sure enough, there was an Easter lily
blooming in his garden. The Evans
road resident is now keeping tabs on
the plant which has sprouted four blooms. It is one of last year's plants, Evans said, and bloomed this Spring. He's enthused about the Easter lily, if slightly puzzled. "It's the first I ever saw them blooming
in September," he says.

★ OFF TO INDIA—David J. Hoh was only a little child when he lived in Potttown in the 1930's, when his father, the
Rev. Ernest H. J. Hoh, was pastor of St. James Lutheran church. Tomorrow,
he'll be commissioned for service as a foreign missionary. He received a call from the Foreign Mission board of the United Lutheran Church in America to take up work in India. Right now, the board is having some difficulty getting visas for new ministerial missionaries to enter India, but it's confident the difficulty soon can be overcome. Hoh will be commissioned at a 7:30 p.m. service
in Lancaster's Emmanuel Lutheran church, of which his father now is pastor. He'll be commissioned by Dr. Earl Erb, executive secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions. He's a graduate of Muhlenberg college, Allentown, and of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia.

IN TOUR—Three local "tin-liz-
zies" or "puddle-jumpers" as they were known in days gone by will be given another chance to prove their worth come Monday. For when Monday rolls around, they will join
some 297 makes of antique automobiles at Cleveland, where a five-day
tour will begin that will take them to Greenfield Village in Dearborn,
Mich. Their drivers, WILLIAM J.
BODEN JR., ERNEST HUNTER and WILLIAM POLLOCK are quite enthusiastic about the whole thing.
Boden will be driving a 1909 White
touring car; Hunter a 1912 Ford
roadster, and Pollock a 1907 Chadwick touring car. All cars are expected to make the run under their own power.

★ ALL DONE TOGETHER—Six Potts-
town area young men, who were in the draft contingent that left Pottstown the past Spring, all have completed their basic training with the tank company
of the 20th Infantry regiment at Camp
Atterbury, Ind. They are PVTs. Leon
Kadunce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max
Kadunce, Pottstown RD 4; Daniel P.
Stercula, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ster-
cula, 457 Beech street; Thomas Reider,
son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reider, 755
Sheridan street; Donald H. Mace, son of
Mr. and Mrs. George K. Mace, 617
Chestrut street; Howard Bowden, son of
Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowden, 244 Oak
street, and Robert E. Kelly, son of Mr.
and Mrs. Joseph A. Kelly Sr., 856 South
street. Mace, Reider, Bowden and Stercul attended Pottstown Senior High school before entering the Army. The married men in the group are Reider,
whose wife, Peggy, lives at 427 Laurel
street, and Bowden, whose wife, Barbara, lives at 637 North Charlotte street.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OUR LAND of plenty, famous for its
high income level and overweight individuals, has produced countless Americans who have poorly balanced diets and poorer eating habits.

A recent study showed that only about 5 percent of the diets consumed were adequate in all food essentials.

According to the findings, a large portion of the food eaten was grossly inadequate in calcium and vitamin B2 or riboflavin.

The intake of these substances is only satisfactory when approximately three cups of milk are consumed; yet only 28 percent of the adults drank as much as two or more cups daily.

It seems that those in the middle-
income group ate more adequate diets
than those in the high or low income
group.

A nutritionally inadequate diet can cause damage to the tissues surrounding the teeth. It has been found that diseased gums can sometimes be effectively restored to their normal state by massage and the giving of adequate amounts of vitamins and minerals.

In order to prevent diseases of the gums, an adequate diet must be consumed.

It has been found that these tissues are helped by eating certain types of food. A good breakfast is important.
Some form of the animal proteins, such
as milk, eggs, or meat, should be included in every meal, including breakfast. Omitting breakfast is unwise.

Many persons think of milk as a beverage rather than a food, and that is unfortunate. Adults should drink milk
as part of their food and be sure that each day enough vitamins and minerals
are supplied to help insure good health.

AUTO CLUB SETS ANNUAL PICNIC

Thousands Expected At Hershey Park Tomorrow

The Pottstown Auto club will hold its annual picnic tomorrow at Hershey park in Hershey with thousands from the area expected to attend.

Horace Hughes, secretary-manager of the club and chairman of arrangements, said that registration will be conducted from noon until 4 p. m.

Included in the entertainment program will be performances by the Pottstown band and glee club. The shows will run from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

Hughes urged all picnickers to register to be eligible for the 20 door prizes which will be drawn at 3 and 4 p. m.

DURING the afternoon session, prizes will be awarded to the club workers who signed up new members during the recent drive.

Top prize will be a wrist watch for the person who signed up the most over 25 members.

Amusement tickets for children will be available at the club's headquarters at reduced rates, Hughes said.

The park will be closed for the day, leaving it open only for participants in the annual picnic.

Also to be featured as part of the entertainment program will be Andy Ceari and his accordion.

Road Is Completed At New Hanover

A new strip of road, measuring a little more than a half-mile, has been completed by the New Hanover road supervisors.

Announcement was made last night when the three members of the road board got together at the Swamp hotel for their regular monthly meeting.

The roadway, Allen G. Renninger said, will be known as the Township Line road, which runs between New Hanover and Upper Frederick townships.

Chairman William Schaeffer presided. William O. Hillegass was the other member of the board present.

Of the wearers of glasses in the United States, 56.4 percent are females and 43.6 percent males.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

This is The Hill school when its present-day magnificent shade trees were scarcely past the sapling stage. The wall is still there, but High street beneath it is a different street altogether from the one on which a wagon-horse is seen plodding.

The preparatory school, now one of the highest ranked in the Nation, was founded in 1851 by Matthew Meigs.

'Gas' Station Owner Must Pay $200 Fine For Punch Boards

A 44-year-old Pottstown area man was fined $200 yesterday by Montgomery County President Judge Harold G. Knight for having nine punch boards in his service station.

Robert Bartman, Gilbertsville, whose service station is on Swamp pike in Gilbertsville, pleaded guilty.

Corp. Donald C. Beacraft testified that he and three other troopers of the Jeffersonville sub-station seized nine money-prize punch boards when they visited the service station the past Aug. 9.

Bartman's attorney, Louis Sager, in a plea that Bartman not be sent to jail, termed him a "foolish man."

JUDGE Knight replied: "They are all foolish men. I don't know when they're going to learn that we do not tolerate gambling in Montgomery county."

Knight added that he didn't consider Bartman's offense too serious but warned him to keep punch boards out of his service station.

El Salvador is about the size of Maryland.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

This is The Hill school when its present-day magnificent shade trees were scarcely past the sapling stage. The wall is still there, but High street beneath it is a different street altogether from the one on which a wagon-horse is seen plodding.

The preparatory school, now one of the highest ranked in the Nation, was founded in 1851 by Matthew Meigs.

Reading Fair Opens Activities Tomorrow

READING, Sept. 11 (AP)—Marking 101 years of farm expositions in Berks county, the Reading fair opens Sunday morning for eight days and seven nights with a banner number of entries in its 15 competitive departments.

As usual during the week, the Reading fair will be hosts to thousands of school children from Reading and Berks county and from Schuylkill, Chester, Montgomery, Lebanon and Lancaster counties. An automobile stunt show, demonstrations by firemen and semifinals in the fair's beauty pageant will launch the 1953 edition Sunday night.

Judging gets under way on Saturday, the day before the fair actually opens when entries will be rated in the art and needlework department. This advance activity was dictated by the huge number of entries.

Livestock judging will begin Monday morning, and during the week coveted blue ribbons will be awarded for virtually every farm and home endeavor.

Each afternoon, Monday through Friday, will be marked by grand circuit harness racing in the only grand circuit competition in Pennsylvania. The nation's leading trotters and pacers have entered in the races, according to Charles W. Swayer, acting race secretary.

Paul Writes to Timothy While Awaiting Death

Be Strong in Grace That Is in Christ; Endure Hardships as a Good Soldier

The Golden Text

Timothy learning the scriptures.

"God gave us not a spirit of fearfulness; but of power and love and discipline."—1 Timothy 1:7.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

FEAR is a primitive feeling we share with all living things. An infant has a fear of falling, we are told, and all through life fears assail us. The person who has conquered fear and faces life with serenity is rare indeed.

St. Paul, in close confinement, knowing that death—and a painful one—was near, thought, not of himself, but of his adopted son and disciple, Timothy, who, he prayed, would live to carry on his work and teach others to take over after he, too, had passed on.

Fear is rampant in our modern world, and we hear many voices of those who warn us daily of the possible perils ahead. But there are also in the world hope and faith; a courage to face whatever disaster and danger come our way, and bear them bravely if we cannot overcome them.

Ministers of the gospel (bless them!) if they are true to their calling, help to banish fear and to keep faith alive. They preach from our pulpits; they follow our armed forces into the very midst of battles and help them to endure and to do their duty like men, and comfort the sorrowing.

Paul writes to Timothy once more how he prays for him without ceasing. "Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy."

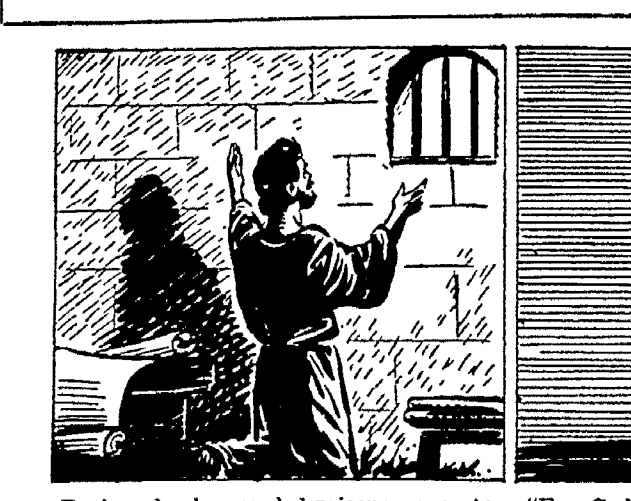

"When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother, Lois, and thy mother, Eunice, and I am persuaded that in thee also."

Paul had known the two women of whom he speaks—Timothy's grandmother and mother. He had known Timothy as a boy in his home, and he realizes what trials and possible death at the hands of enemies of the faith Timothy faces, and writes to tell him of his (Paul's) faith in him and encourage him to face what may be in store for him.

"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." "Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but be thou partaker of the afflictions of a gospel who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling."

Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Courage for Christian Living

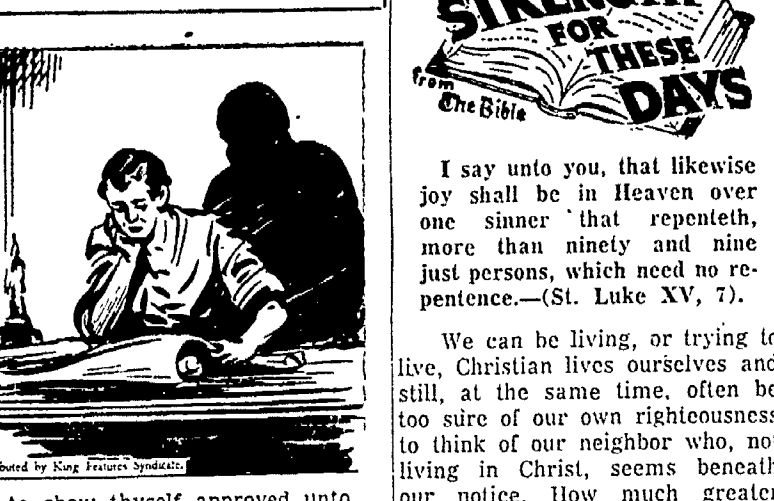

Paul, a closely guarded prisoner, soon to die, writes to Timothy that he "has remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day; greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy."

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." For "the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality."

By Alfred J. Buescher

"Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth," Paul writes Timothy during his days in prison awaiting death.

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in Heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.—(St. Luke XV, 7).

We can be living, or trying to live, Christian lives ourselves and still, at the same time, often be too sure of our own righteousness to think of our neighbor who, not living in Christ, seems beneath our notice. How much greater strength will come to us when, through our example and efforts, one who is without God shall come to know and believe on Him.

But... Would CHRIST Call You A Christian?

There is an amazing difference of opinion today as to what constitutes a real Christian.

One man regards himself as a good Christian because he applies the Golden Rule to everyday living. Another professes to be a follower of Christ even though he believes only part of the Savior's teaching. And some who call themselves Christian even go so far as to reject his divinity.

Too many people, unfortunately, are setting up their own standards of Christian character and Christian living... forgetting that Christ Himself set these standards for us.

The result is that many sincere people are confused... and are deceiving themselves with a minimum, or "so-so" kind of Christian living.

The Catholic Church teaches that the mere belief in Christ is not enough. For if it were, why did Christ take the trouble to show us by precept and example how we should live? Nor can we regard His teachings as just a social doctrine... subject to our individual amendments... when He made it so plain that our very salvation depends on living as He prescribes, not as we choose.

No Religion Threat Today to Christianity Says Bishop Oxnam

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—"No religion constitutes a serious threat to Christianity today, but at no time in its history has Christianity been more seriously challenged," says Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington, D. C.

"A dynamic and ruthless ideology capitalizes upon the restlessness of humanity. It summons the masses to class war in the name of abolishing the exploitation of man by man and for the purpose of establishing the classless society."

"It rules out all moral absolutes; and finds reality to lie in an inexorable historical process. It is avowedly atheistic. Under the slogan 'Workers of the World Unite, You Have Nothing to Lose But Your Chains,' in the name of establishing freedom, wherever it has gone it has riveted the shackles of tyranny upon the bodies of men and women and little children. Thus, the church that would evangelize the world is confronted by an expanding imperialism and an infiltrating ideology."

Bartholomew Dias rounded the southern tip of Africa in 1488.

Selection of Music For Church Hymnal Nearing Completion

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—The selection of hymns and music for the proposed new hymnal of the major Presbyterian and Reformed churches in the US will be completed by October, and in two years the first books will be off the presses of the Westminster Press, it is announced.

Dr. Albert J. Kiselring, of Jacksonville, Fla., chairman of the hymnal committee, says of the long anticipated selection: "The book itself will contain 576 pages. In it will be found the best of our time-honored hymns and, in addition, metrical psalms, gospel hymns, Negro spirituals, ancient chants, and aids to worship."

The content committee representing the five cooperating churches (Presbyterian church in the USA, Presbyterian church in the US, United Presbyterian church, Reformed church in America, and Associate Reformed Presbyterian church) has endeavored to preserve the main strain of our Presbyterian-Reformed heritage.

The hymnal editor is Dr. David Hugh Jones, of Princeton Theological seminary.

Paul Writes to Timothy While Awaiting Death

Be Strong in Grace That Is in Christ; Endure Hardships as a Good Soldier

The Golden Text

Timothy learning the scriptures.

"God gave us not a spirit of fearfulness; but of power and love and discipline."—II Timothy 1:7.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

FEAR is a primitive feeling we share with all living things. An infant has a fear of falling, we are told, and all through life fears assail us. The person who has conquered fear and faces life with serenity is rare indeed.

St. Paul, in close confinement, knowing that death—and a painful one—was near, thought, not of himself, but of his adopted son and disciple, Timothy, who, he prayed, would live to carry on his work and teach others to take over after he, too, had passed on.

Fear is rampant in our modern world, and we hear many voices of those who warn us daily of the possible perils ahead. But there are also in the world hope and faith; a courage to face whatever disaster and danger come our way, and become over them. We cannot overcome them.

Ministers of the gospel (bless them!) if they are true to their calling, help to banish fear and to keep faith alive. They preach from our pulpits; they follow our armed forces into the very midst of battles and help them to endure and to do their duty like men, and comfort the sorrowing.

Paul writes to Timothy once more how he prays for him without ceasing. "Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy."

"When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother, Lois, and thy mother, Eunice, and I am persuaded that in thee also."

Paul had known the two women of whom he speaks—Timothy's grandmother and mother. He had known Timothy as a boy in his home, and he realizes what trials and possible death at the hands of enemies of the faith Timothy faces, and writes to tell him of his (Paul's) faith in him and encourage him to face what may be in store for him.

"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

"Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God, who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling."

Courage for Christian Living

Paul, a closely guarded prisoner, soon to die, writes to Timothy that he "has remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day; greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy."

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." For "the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality."

"Thou, therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And the things that thou hast heard of me, among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."

"Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." Paul writes Timothy during his days in prison awaiting death.

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in Heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.—(St. Luke XV, 7).

We can be living, or trying to live, Christian lives ourselves and still, at the same time, often be too sure of our own righteousness to think of our neighbor who, not living in Christ, seems beneath our notice. How much greater strength will come to us when, through our example and efforts, one who is without God shall come to know and believe on Him.

GENESIS 22:8 "The Lord will provide."

This phrase from the book of beginnings and the life of Abraham has held a profound influence over my life since the day of my conversion. Whatever philosophy of life I possess is compassed with the simple truth of this statement.

To say I have been spared all trial would be dishonest. However, a greater dishonesty would be mine if I failed to shout to a world that worry and anxiety are gone. I can look to this simple truth and know that God will provide my real needs.

The calm assurance, even in the face of crisis, supplied by the simple acceptance of this sovereignty of God has made life for me truly free. So much of my life had been spent in looking to the world for my provisions, and the accompanying fear I had of that world because it might withhold my desires. Now in Christ, I know peace and security.

Elder Lawrence Maxwell To Speak Before Group Today

More than 50 Seventh-day Adventist young people are attending a three-day camping program this weekend at the French Creek State park, as part of the church's year-round activity program of youth fellowship society.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

They were gowned in baby blue net and lace over matching taffeta. The dresses had a princess bodice of tulle enhanced with a double applique of lace. Matching stoles covered the strapless tops.

Double rows of Chantilly lace were on the bouffant skirts over taffeta. The bridesmaids' headpieces were in the form of matching halo hats with short face veils.

Dawn Menkins, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. Her dress was of sunset pink tulle over matching taffeta. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline, puff sleeves and a princess bodice.

Double Ring Nuptials Unite Mary Urban, Clyde Menkins

St. Peter's Lutheran church, Stowe, was the scene of a recent double ring ceremony uniting Mary Betty Urban and Clyde Leon Menkins.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Arthur Hanson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Urban Jr., Pottstown RD 3.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Menkins, Pottstown RD 3.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over gossamer satin with a sweep train.

It was styled with a lace oversatin princess bodice enhanced with pearls and sequins and a sheer yoke. The peter pan collar was also highlighted with pearls and sequins. The short, fitted sleeves were complemented by three-quarter length gloves.

The bouffant skirts over satin fell softly in three deep tiers enhanced with lovely lace insertions on the tulle and scalloped edge.

She wore a matching halo tiara of rhinestones and pearls with a fingertip veil of imported pure silk.

Mrs. Paul Mest, the bride's sister, was her matron of honor. She wore an ankle length gown of cornflower yellow lace and net. It was fashioned with a lace princess bodice and strapless top with an attached stole.

The bouffant skirt of lace was highlighted with a deep ruffle of nylon tulle over matching taffeta. A matching halo head piece with a short face veil completed her outfit.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Stimson and Marie Menkins, the groom's sister.

They were gowned in baby blue net and lace over matching taffeta. The dresses had a princess bodice of tulle enhanced with a double applique of lace. Matching stoles covered the strapless tops.

Double rows of Chantilly lace were on the bouffant skirts over taffeta. The bridesmaids' headpieces were in the form of matching halo hats with short face veils.

Dawn Menkins, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. Her dress was of sunset pink tulle over matching taffeta. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline, puff sleeves and a princess bodice.

The bouffant pick-up skirt revealed rows of softly tiered nylon tulle. She also wore a matching sweetheart bonnet with large ties.

Robert Menkins, the groom's brother, was best man. Ushers were Paul Urban 3rd, brother of the bride, and Leslie Rinehart, uncle of the bride.

Richard Urban, the bride's brother, was the ring bearer.

Organist for the wedding was Mrs. Paul Satko.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for over 100 guests at Cedar Hollow.

Both the mother of the bride and the groom wore navy blue dresses with navy accessories, complemented with white carnation corsages.

The bride wore a pink suit with white accessories to travel in. She is employed at the Boyertown shoe factory. Her husband's vocation is farming.

Operator of Bingo Game Pleads Guilty; Fined $150 and Costs by Court

The operator of a bingo game, near Royersford—first man to be brought into Montgomery county courts on a bingo charge—escaped a jail term yesterday, with the first assistant district attorney terming bingo “one of the mildest forms of gambling.”

First Assistant District Attorney Bernard E. DiJoseph used the term in a mild speech to Judge William F. Dannehower, after Guy R. Markley, 37, Lehighton, pleaded guilty to operating the bingo game at Lakeview Amusement park. He was fined $150 and costs.

At the time of the raid the past Saturday, county detectives pointed out that Markley's game, unlike many others, was conducted for personal profit not in support of a church or other community organization.

Markley's attorney, A. Benjamin Scirica, said, “I have received petitions signed by hundreds of people in the area, supporting this man and the bingo games he ran.”

JUDGE Dannehower made no comment on bingo in handing down the sentence.

Testifying for the raiding party was County Detective William J. Bradley who said that it found about 40 persons, mostly middle-aged women, playing bingo at the time.

Markley told Judge Dannehower that he had been operating the game for the past three summers.

Were you ever given any warning to close up? the judge asked him.

Markley said, “No, if I had.”

Farmers' Dollar Drops

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Agriculture department reported the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar has dropped to the lowest level since before World War II.

The farm share was reported at 44 cents. During the war it reached 54 cents.

The department said the drop reflects a steady decline in prices received by farmers and an increase in marketing costs.

A quantity of food costing consumers $1017 today was said to return $446 to farmers.

Operator of Bingo Game Pleads Guilty; Fined $150 and Costs by Court

The operator of a bingo game near Royersford—first man to be brought into Montgomery county courts on a bingo charge—escaped a jail term yesterday, with the first assistant district attorney terming bingo "one of the mildest forms of gambling."

First Assistant District Attorney Bernard E. DiJoseph used the term in a mild speech to Judge William F. Dannehower, after Guy R. Markley, 37, Lehigh, pleaded guilty to operating the bingo game at Lakeview Amusement park. He was fined $150 and costs.

At the time of the raid the past Saturday, county detectives pointed out that Markley's game, unlike many others, was conducted for personal profit not in support of a church or other community organization.

Markley's attorney, A. Benjamin Scirica, said, "I have received petitions signed by hundreds of people in the area, supporting this man and the bingo games he ran."

JUDGE Dannehower made no comment on bingo in handing down the sentence.

Testifying for the raiding party was County Detective William J. Bradley who said that it found about 40 persons, mostly middle-aged women, playing bingo at the time.

Markley told Judge Dannehower that he had been operating the game for the past three summers.

Were you ever given any warning to close up? the judge asked him.

Holy Name Union Plans Gigantic Demonstration

Three Pottstown men will travel to Philadelphia Sunday where they will join the delegates from 270 Catholic churches to discuss final plans for a gigantic religious demonstration sponsored by the Holy Name union.

The delegation, which will meet at St. Richard's Roman Catholic church, 18th and Pollock streets, will be represented locally by John Sweeney, Charles Palladino and William Roberts.

Plans already mapped schedule the demonstration for Oct. 11, with accommodations set for 80,000 members of the Holy Name societies in the five-county Philadelphia area.

The demonstration, which is held every five years, will be climaxed this year with the first evening open air solemn pontifical mass in the history of the church in the US.

CELEBRANT at the mass will be the Most Rev. Joseph McShea, auxiliary bishop of Philadelphia. Archbishop John F. O'Hara, CSC, will deliver the sermon and will impart the Papal Blessing with a plenary indulgence after the last Gospel of the mass.

In a spot check with parish priests' and other Holy Name societies in Pottstown last night, it was learned that more delegates may attend the planning session tomorrow although no names were given.

Keep Your Eye on Late Carrots For Leaf Blight and Rust Fly

CARROT LEAF BLIGHT

RUST FLY MAGGOT TUNNELS INTO CARROT

CARROTS that are properly thinned and cultivated regularly will thrive as a general rule, but sometimes trouble develops. Among their insect enemies is the carrot rust fly. Leaf blight also can be bothersome.

Leaf blight shows its presence by dark spots on the leaves which yellow and die if the infection is severe. Typical appearance of carrot leaf blight is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Unless the infection is checked, top and root growth will be reduced.

To control leaf blight, spray with a Bordeaux mixture at 10-day intervals, beginning when the plants are three to four inches tall, or dust with a 20-50 copper-lime dust. These com-

Gardening this Week

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—If the will to work were as strong in the Autumn as it invariably is in the Spring, this would be the best time of the year for us amateur gardeners.

I seem to be able to get the major assignments cleaned up—things like transplanting jobs which require assistance, patching up and feeding the lawn—but I find a remarkable tendency in myself to postpone the minor jobs.

However, it is like that each year, and I must say that most established growing things show a remarkable ability to take care of themselves.

It seems to be my Autumn pleasure to contemplate my garden, deciding what jobs I will undertake in the Spring. In the Spring, I might add, I decide what I'll do when Fall comes. Right now I also fancy myself in the role of nature's little helper, collecting ripe seeds of this perennial or that annual and transporting them to other parts of the garden.

The variety of ways nature induces the reproduction of plants is fascinating to see. With some of the poppies, Oriental and shirley for instance, the seeds are formed in pods made like a compartmented salt shaker. The California poppy, on the other hand, forms a seed pod like a bean which splits and releases the seed when ripe. Portulaca has a little round pod full of tiny silver seeds which splits and spills when ripe. Some seeds are protected by hard shells, others have gliding attachments and become air-borne.

New Assistant County Agent Named; James Haldeman to Head Berks Unit

Marion R. Deppen, Williamsport, for three years assistant county agent of Lycoming and Clinton counties, has been transferred to Montgomery county as assistant agent to take the place of James F. Haldeman, just named county agent of Berks county.

His transfer, effective Oct. 1, has been announced by Dr. Herbert R. Albrecht, Pennsylvania State college, State director of agricultural extension. Deppen will be associated with county agent R. G. Waltz with offices in the Postoffice Building at Norris-town.

Native of Millersburg, RD, Dauphin county, Deppen was active in 4-H club work, graduated from Millersburg High school, worked for two years as a milling machine operator, and served for a year with the United States Army in Korea.

Returning from the service he entered Penn State where he majored in agricultural economics, completing the four-year course in three.

Sow Your Wheat on Fly Free Date

Observance of the fly-free date in sowing wheat is particularly urgent this Fall because of an unusually heavy infestation of Hessian fly, warns County Agent R. G. Waltz.

The fly-free date, which generally corresponds with the time of the first killing frost is Sept. 30, for Montgomery county.

In many places, he points out, there is a large amount of volunteer wheat with the result a supplementary brood of Hessian fly has developed.

Only by waiting for the fly-free date will the new wheat seeding be safe from this pest, he declares.

In the United States there are 20 percent more women users of eyeglasses than men users.

... pounds are obtainable at almost any garden supply shop. Burning of the refuse of diseased carrots also helps to control the spread of leaf blight.

If carrots make a good start and then wilt and gradually die, it indicates that the carrot rust fly is at work. The fly lays its eggs in the collars of young carrots. The eggs hatch into legless larvae or maggots. These tunnel through the carrot root, as illustrated.

Control measures include treating the young carrot plants with corrosive sublimate, one ounce to 10 gallons of water. The plants and soil around them should be thoroughly soaked with this mixture for several inches on each side of the carrot rows.

Keep Your Eye on Late Carrots For Leaf Blight and Rust Fly

CARROT LEAF BLIGHT

CARROTS that are properly thinned and cultivated regularly will thrive as a general rule, but sometimes trouble develops. Among their insect enemies is the carrot rust fly. Leaf blight also can be bothersome.

Leaf blight shows its presence by dark spots on the leaves which yellow and die if the infection is severe. Typical appearance of carrot leaf blight is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Unless the infection is checked, top and root growth will be reduced.

To control leaf blight, spray with a Bordeaux mixture at 10-day intervals, beginning when the plants are three to four inches tall, or dust with a 20-80 copper-lime dust. These compounds are obtainable at almost any garden supply shop. Burning of the refuse of diseased carrots also helps to control the spread of leaf blight.

If carrots make a good start and then wilt and gradually die, it indicates that the carrot rust fly is at work. The fly lays its eggs in the collars of young carrots. The eggs hatch into legless larvae or maggots. These tunnel through the carrot root, as illustrated.

Control measures include treating the young carrot plants with corrosive sublimate, one ounce to 10 gallons of water. The plants and soil around them should be thoroughly soaked with this mixture for several inches on each side of the carrot rows.

Gardening this Week

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
CHAPPAQUA, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP) — If the will to work were as strong in the Autumn as it invariably is in the Spring, this would be the best time of the year for us amateur gardeners.

I seem to be able to get the major assignments cleaned up—things like transplanting jobs which require assistance, patching up and feeding the lawn—but I find a remarkable tendency in myself to postpone the minor jobs.

However, it is like that each year, and I must say that most established growing things show a remarkable ability to take care of themselves.

It seems to be my Autumn pleasure to contemplate my garden, deciding what jobs I will undertake in the Spring. In the Spring, I might add, I decide what I'll do when Fall comes. Right now I also fancy myself in the role of nature's little helper, collecting ripe seeds of this perennial or that annual and transporting them to other parts of the garden.

The variety of ways nature induces the reproduction of plants is fascinating to see. With some of the poppies, Oriental and shirley for instance, the seeds are formed in pods made like a compartmented salt shaker. The California poppy, on the other hand, forms a seed pod like a bean which splits and releases the seed when ripe. Portulaca has a little round pod full of tiny silver seeds which splits and spills when ripe. Some seeds are protected by hard shells; others have gliding attachments and become air-borne.

I give an assist by spreading calendula—pot-marigold—seeds for they are hardy and always show up with handsome flowers ranging from light yellow to golden. It doesn't bother me that the portulaca shows a tendency to self-seed with blooms mostly of red after a few seasons. My forget-me-not seeds with more blue than pink plants although they started even-steven. I like old-fashioned columbine, with their nodding, drooping heads of deep purple, but I'd never bother to save seed of the specimen varieties because the chances of their coming true is almost infinitesimal.

There are many varieties of zinnia, marigold and other popular garden flowers—and none worth seed-collecting. In addition many of them are such tender seeds they won't survive freezing. Phlox—self-seeds rather easily, but crosses with wild phlox sometimes and the result isn't exactly handsome.

Generally speaking, it isn't worth while saving seeds if you expect dramatic results. Seedsmen have perfected and developed techniques to provide us, at minimum costs, with bigger, better, more interesting varieties which come true. I think, however, that it's fun, and adds to gardener's own interest in growing things to plant around with seeds. The year I floated tomato seeds I'd salvaged myself, I had a most interesting time—and most uninteresting tomatoes. But it was very worth while as far as I was concerned.

Sow Your Wheat on Fly Free Date

Observance of the fly-free date in sowing wheat is particularly urgent this Fall because of an unusually heavy infestation of Hessian fly, warns County Agent R. G. Waltz.

The fly-free date, which generally corresponds with the time of the first killing frost is Sept. 30, for Montgomery county.

In many places, he points out, there is a large amount of volunteer wheat with the result a supplementary brood of Hessian fly has developed.

Only by waiting for the fly-free date will the new wheat seedling be safe from this pest, he declares.

ANSWERS
QUESTIONS

Q. How can I be sure my poultry house is sanitary?
A. It takes lots of hard work (scrubbing) plus a good disinfectant. Like Dr. Salsbury's Germex, for example. Germex is a quaternary ammonium disinfectant; it kills the germs and banishes odors. It's easy to use and low in cost. Use Germex for all sanitary jobs around the farm, get extra value. Make a note now -- buy a bottle of Germex tomorrow.

Don Allison Tries for 2d Straight in Sanatoga Benefit

Sanatoga Speedway and the All Stars Stock Car Racing club will help put a new wing on Pottstown's Memorial Hospital tonight when they stage a benefit racing program on the speedway's fast, fifth-mile oval at 8:30.

It will be the regular weekly scramble among the All Stars, who are moving into the homestretch of the 1953 season, but this trip all net proceeds from the affair will be turned over to the hospital. It will be the second benefit program staged by Promoter George Marshman, who delivered a sizeable bundle of cash to Pottstown Hospital after a similar midseason show.

Nothing is being spared in making tonight's affair one of the year's finest. Marshman is beckoning his four top destruction derby drivers into the arena to uncork another of their zany sideshows as an added feature.

In the strictly racing portion of the schedule, upwards of two score All Stars will run through three heat races, two semifinals, a consolation and the 30-lap feature. The entry list includes Don Allison, the come-lately who spun his car through a crowded field to the 50-lap Labor Day championship Monday night. Back, too, will be the old desperado, Mose Moore, who came within a whisker of denying Allison's bid in the holiday classic.

Moore will rule as the favorite, along with brother Harry Moore and the always dangerous Reds Leshner, the club's point leader from Reading. Other top-flight competitors already signed for the benefit scramble include Monk Kellar, Stan Pink and Jim Ryan, all Pottstonians anxious to help out in the hospital fund, Dick Rodenberger of Quakertown, George Gregory and Wild Bill Smith.

One of the season's largest crowds, lured by the chance to contribute to a worthy fund and catch a thrill or two in the bargain, is expected to turn up.

Strong Finish Helps Fiore Beat Womber

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Rugby Carmine Fiore of Brooklyn came from behind tonight to edge Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago in the main ten-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena. Fiore, a 9-5 underdog, weighed 146 to Womber's 148.

It was the fourth straight victory for the swarthy, 24-year-old Brooklynite, and the fourth consecutive loss for the Chicago Negro. Bang Bang hasn't won since he upset welterweight champion Kid Gavilan last May.

The unanimous decision for Fiore was unique—all three officials scored it 5-4-1. The AP score card also favored Fiore, 5-4-1. The officials were referee Harry Kessler, and judges Frank Forbes and Art Schwartz.

It was Carmine's second straight upset victory. In his last outing as a long shot, he surprised Danny Giovannelli.

The crew cut kid from Brooklyn also came up with some stiff rights to keep Womber guessing.

There were no knockdowns but Fiore shook Danny with a jarring left hook in the eighth round.

Durocher Runs Managers School

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants today had a "school for managers" in full swing, letting the second of four player "pilots" direct the club against the Chicago Cubs.

The idea is to "sharpen up" the sagging Giants for 1954.

The student "manager"—making all decisions except pitching assignments and changes—was shortstop Alvin Dark, following third sacker Bill Rigney, who directed the Giants to an even break against the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday and Wednesday.

Dark, also will guide the Giants against the Cubs tomorrow. Catcher Wes Strum will pilot the Giants in two games in Milwaukee. First sacker Whitey Lockman will be in charge of the final two games of the Giant tour at Cincinnati.

Durocher will take full hold on the reins when the Giants, now fifth 32 games behind the Dodgers, return to New York.

Durocher said his novel idea had the full blessing of Horace Stoneham, giant owner.

"I THINK the experiment already is prodding interest among the players," said Leo, under whom Eddie Stanky received the bench tutelage credited with winning his current job as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"Let's say I didn't think the boys were as sharply interested in baseball this season as they might have been," said Durocher. "This move might make the 'mangers' and the rest start thinking more in baseball terms next season."

"I wouldn't do this as a steady diet, of course, but with the Giants hopelessly out of the running, this is the time for spurring of interest."

MONTREAL, Sept. 11 (AP)—Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, although both were hobbling at the finish, scored quick, one sided victories over Canada's top players today to send the United States off to a 2-0 lead in the American zone final of the Davis cup competition.

Top Speedsters To Run in Grove Midget Races

WILLIAMS GROVE, Sept. 11—Record-holders, stars of midget, big car and stock car racing, including several additional veterans of the Indianapolis classic, filled their entries yesterday for the AAA National Championship Midget Auto race scheduled tomorrow afternoon on Roy Richwine's half-mile Williams Grove speedway.

Swelling a field of the nation's greatest drivers already entered in the only midget racing classic scheduled this season at Williams Grove were:

Jack McGrath, veteran of the Indianapolis classic; Gene Force, Richmond, Ind., another star of the "500"; Wally Campbell, Trenton, N. J., modified stock car racing champion; Vic Carter, Lima, O., holder of the qualifying record at the Grove; Johnny Thomson, Springfield, Mass., New England midget champ; Joe Sostilio, Natick, Mass., midget and big car veteran; and Eddie Russo, Chicago.

McGrath, fifth-place finisher at Indianapolis this year, will gun the high-powered Offenhauser engine of the Cheesman special for his second victory in as many appearances this season at Williams Grove, having established a new track record on June 14 in winning the 100-lap late model stock car race here.

A newcomer to AAA ranks, Campbell was king-pin in modified stock car racing until accepted into AAA competition about a month ago in order that he can be eligible for the "500" next year. Campbell's entry into AAA big car racing has been nothing short of sensational, the Trenton leadfoot scoring his first major victory on August 30 at St. Paul, Minn., where he finished second the previous day. He will drive the fast Frank Curtis No. 8 midget.

CARTER, HOLDER of the midget track record for qualifying at the Grove, will drive the Painter No. 3 Offy in which he finished second on Sept. 4 at Kokomo, Ind. Carter set the fastest time trial last year here at 23.41 seconds, won his heat race and led the feature for 12 laps until he threw a rod, opening the way for George Fonder, of Lansdale, another entry for tomorrow, to win the midget classic for the second consecutive year.

Twenty-four cars will start in the gruelling 50-lap feature grind following a series of qualifying races. Time trials will start at 12:30 o'clock.

EIGHT TROJAN BACKS SEEK STARTING JOBS

If somebody jolted Heeh Meyers with such an untimely question as "Who will be your four starters in the Pottstown High backfield next Saturday night?" the Trojan head coach would probably precede his answer with a lengthy session of head scratching.

Eight players are in contention for the four positions with only Josh Sova as a sure starter. He has won the quarterback post with his superior passing and all-around play.

The most hotly contested spot is at left halfback where Wils Bedell, Clark Burns and Dave Dunn are running about even. Bedell is only a Sophomore and in Junior High was a center. He has good speed, which prompted Meyers to convert him to the backfield. He has a defensive edge on the other two.

Clark Burns played football for the first time as a jayvee the past year. He's not the smoothest runner on the squad but his stocky frame gets there and the coaches feel he has real potentialities. He is a Junior.

Dunn saw considerable jayvee service the past year and may work himself into the top job. He is the squad's No. 2 kicker behind Sova.

TWO VETERANS are ready for the fullback job. Co-captain Flip Smoyer and Red Kerr make that post the strongest in the backfield. Both are Seniors with plenty of experience. Neither has an overabundance of speed but they pick their holes well and will be consistent gainers through the middle. Kerr is the team's best defensive man in the secondary.

The right halfback position is for the speed boys. Carl Burns and Dave Gillis have enough high octane in them to make Meyers' outside plays work, but whether they will remain intact physically is the big question.

Gillis is a Sophomore and was PHS' second fastest sprint man. He scored five touchdowns in one game for the Golden Cubs in '52 which is evidence enough of his speed. Burns is a Senior, who also hopes to transfer his track speed to the gridiron.

Sova was Jim Kirk's replacement at quarterback the past year but now it appears things are just reversed. Sova is bigger and throws a much better long pass. Behind this pair is Jim Gibbons, a Sophomore speedster who will gain valuable experience this season.

JOE LIPKO is another Sophomore who should do some relief work at one of the backfield running posts. He is one of the heavier backs and has good drive. Don Keifridger, up from the Cubs, will probably take a turn on defense.

Although there doesn't appear to be an outstanding back in the group, all will do good workman-like jobs.

The Trojan JVs will scrimmage Norco at Franklin field this morning at 10 o'clock.

REASON TO BE HAPPY—Fred Greenly stands with probably the greatest champion he has ever had; Ch. Allen's Glory of Spring. The 2-year-old pug will compete in the Berks County Kennel Club show at Reading tomorrow afternoon. This photo was taken the past Sunday after Spring not only won top honors in breed and group, but was also named best American bred dog in show. After having won 54 best of breed prizes in 58 shows he has appeared in this year, dog experts are rating him as the best pug in the country. He will display his championship lines and personality at Collegeville, Sunday Sept. 20, in the Valley Forge Kennel Club show, which will pit him against the best dogs in the East.

35 Report for Practice

Gurzynski Hopes to Improve Record As Veterans Return to Ursinus Squad

With the opening whistle only three weeks off, Head Coach Ray Gurzynski of Ursinus still hasn't gotten out the crying towel.

As a mater of fact, the Ursinus mentor appears pretty optimistic, feeling that his seasoned squad can improve upon the 3-5-0 record of past year's team.

An enthusiastic squad of 35 gridders turned out for the opening day of practice Wednesday, with veteran running backs Dick Glick and Ben Maliken reporting.

Gurzynski and his assistant Harry Spangler, expect to build their T-formation attack around Glick and Maliken.

The optimistic coach, starting his fourth year at the helm of the Bears, is pleased with his line stalwarts, Captain Frank Kolp of Royersford, John Anderson of Carlisle, and Tap Webb and Gene Harris, both of Upper Darby.

MUCH is also expected from the following returning veterans: Al Paolone, Upper Darby; Dan Swenk, Ocean City, N. J.; Al Stipa, Spring City; John Conti, Berwyn; LeRoy Krausley, Royersford; Paul Neborak, Royersford; George Aucoitt, Philadelphia; and Ed Sella, Dunellen, N. J.

Other new talent is expected to arrive with the freshman class next week.

The Bears will play the same tough schedule they played last year. It is as follows:

Oct. 3	Susquehanna	home
Oct. 10	Drexel	away
Oct. 17	Haverford	home
Oct. 24	Swarthmore	away
Oct. 31	Wagner	away

BLAIRSTOWN, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Princeton football coach Charlie Caldwell announced a tentative backfield alignment today on the eve of the Tigers' first full-scale scrimmage.

Fullback Homer Smith, tailback Royce Flippin, wingback Earl Byrne and quarterback Frank Lovechio comprise the foursome, which Caldwell emphasized was strictly tentative. All are Seniors except Flippin, a highly touted Sophomore standout.

Smith, the team captain, is from Omaha, Neb., Flippin from Montclair, N. J., Byrne from Shaker Heights, Ohio, and Lovechio from Wilkes-Barre.

"We Serve Your Neighbor"

The semi-windup featuring Marciano and Marin, the New Yorker who has lost only two out of 18 bouts, will be an eight-rounder. McCoy and his Providence, R. I., opponent will battle it out in a six-round match.

A pair of four-round preliminaries, the first to begin at 8:30 o'clock, will feature two Reading boys making their professional debuts. Frank Romano, who starts his pro career after an unbeaten tour as an amateur, meets George Faizon. George Liptowski, was also unbeaten as an amateur and his opponent is Jack McCarthy, a heavyweight. McCarthy and Faizon both hail from New York City.

DiCINDIO'S first card in August was a moderate success from a financial standpoint. The fans who attended, about 600, were more than pleased with the brand of fighting they witnessed. The rookie promoter has installed new lights and has arranged better seating accommodations to please the customers.

In Norris and Amato, DiCindio presents a pair of welters that have faced the better men in their division.

Neither has to be ashamed of the decisions they lost to Joey Giambra (Amato) and Carmen Basilio (Norris). The winner of tonight's bout will probably get a crack at a ranking welter in his next outing.

Marciano was the big talk of the first fight program at the Royertown suburb park. He decided clever Chico Corsey, a veteran of more than 40 fights. In Marin, he meets a youth of about the same experience as his own, and with a record almost as good.

McCoy, the hard-punching Army corporal, is also making a return engagement to Gabelsville. He scored a one round TKO over James Wiley, and plenty of local fans will be rooting for him to do the same against Holmes.

Redlegs' Outburst Hands Roberts His 14th Defeat

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP) — Ted Kluszewski clouded his 39th homer of the year to lead a Cincinnati Redlegs' seventh inning rally that defeated the Philadelphia Phillies tonight 6-5. The big spurge knocked out Robin Roberts, who was after his 22nd win but instead suffered his 14th loss.

Big Ted's blow with none aboard knotted the score. Jim Konstanty relieved Robin in the fateful frame, after Andy Seminick's two-bagger drove in two more Cincinnati

Browns Shutout Sox; Pilette Hurls 3-Hitter

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — Right-hander Duane Pilette handcuffed Ted Williams while pitching his lowly St. Louis Browns to a 2-0 shutout over the Boston Red Sox today with a brilliant three-hit performance.

Leadoff man Billy Goodman got two of the Boston hits, clean singles in the third and ninth innings. The other hit charged against Pilette came when Sammy White beat out an eighth inning but Pilette had only one strikeout but he did not yield a base on balls.

The Browns totaled seven hits against three Boston flingers, the last of whom was Ellis Kinder, called upon for his 65th relief turn. Kinder now needs but one more appearance to tie an American League record for most games pitched in one season made by Ed Walsh of Chicago, as a starter and reliever, back in 1908. The major league mark of 74 was set in 1950 by Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phils.

Four of the St. Louis hits were bunched against starter Willard Nixon in the sixth inning when the Browns scored twice. With one out, Dick Kryhoski and Vic Wertz singled.

Nixon then filled the bases by walking Don Lenhardt. Kryhoski scored on Johnny Groth's drive into rightfield and Wertz countered on Les Moss' safely into left.

The Delock then replaced Nixon and Goodman retired the Browns by starting a double play after stopping Bob Young's vicious grounder with a spectacular dive. Williams, who started with a 1,000-plus slugging average, was limited to three grounders and a fly by Pilette. Kinder took over in the ninth, after Delock had been lifted for a futile pinch-hitter.

Cardinals Beat Pirates, 5-3

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates took advantage of Vinegar Bend Mizell's wildness to break up his shutout with three ninth-inning runs tonight but reliever Al Brazle salvaged a 5-3 victory for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Tribe Loses, 6-4

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — Washington spoiled Bob Lemon's bid to become the first American League pitcher to win 20 games tonight when the Senators splurged for three runs in the eighth inning to defeat Cleveland, 6-4.

The loss prevented the Indians from gaining on the front-running New York Yankees who lost to Detroit in the afternoon. The run-up Indians trail by 10 games.

Senators Spoil Lemon's Bid for 20th

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — Washington spoiled Bob Lemon's bid to become the first American League pitcher to win 20 games tonight when the Senators splurged for three runs in the eighth inning to defeat Cleveland, 6-4.

The loss prevented the Indians from gaining on the front-running New York Yankees who lost to Detroit in the afternoon. The run-up Indians trail by 10 games.

The Indians tied the score at 3-3 against winner Spec Shea with two runs in the eighth inning, but the Senators bounced back to hand Lemon a 14th loss with their up-rising in the same session.

Shea, who posted his 12th win, had a no-hitter for a 4-2-3 innings before George Strickland doubled. The Senators gave Shea a quick lead in the first inning when Eddie Yost tripped and scored on Mickey Vernon's double.

Washington boosted its advantage to 3-0 in the fifth. Wayne Terwilliger singled and came around on Ed Fitz Gerald's double. Yost scored Fitz Gerald with a single.

Singles by Al Rosen, Wally Westlake and Dale Mitchell produced Cleveland's first run in the seventh and the Indians tied the score in the eighth when Lemon singled. Bill Glynn doubled and Larry Doby singled.

Jackie Jensen launched the Senators' winning inning with a single and with one out Jim Busby beat out a grounder. Terwilliger flied out but Fitz Gerald singled to left, scoring Jensen. When Mitchell fumbled the ball, Busby also scored.

The Indians picked up a run in the ninth after Mitchell singled with one out. He took second and third unmolested and scored on Lemon's single.

Gray Wins 9th Tigers Defeat Yanks, Reynolds in 10th Inning, 3-2

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP) — Lefty Gray temporarily halted the New York Yankees' pennant march today as he pitched and batted the Detroit Tigers to a teninning 3-2 victory over the American League leaders.

The 28-year-old Gray scored the winning run after hitting a triple with one out. Harvey Kuenn followed with a long fly to center, delivering Gray with the tally.

The Yankees' only runs came on homers by Joe Collins and Yogi Berra. Collins' blow, his 16th, gave the Yankees a 1-0 lead in the first inning and Berra's tied the score in the sixth after the Bengals had gone ahead with two markers in the fifth. It was Berra's 26th home run of the season.

Big Chief Alie Reynolds, prepping for a World Series start, went to bat.

24-Game Winning Streak Spartans Try for Big Ten Title This Season

EAST LANSING, Mich., Sept. 11 (AP) — They led the lambs into Mackin field here the other day, perhaps a bit early for Spartan treatment.

And, although the lambs were the prize possessions of 4-H clubbers in a state-wide competition, the action served as a preliminary to the football slaughter that seems sure to come when rival coaches lead their star performers into the mighty Michigan State lair.

The national champion Spartans, riding along on a 24-game winning streak and the object of everyone's affections in this, their first year in the Big Ten, should be up there again even though the ouster of the two-platoon system may play havoc with their little backs.

A TIP-OFF on the class of this outfit, despite the loss of 21 lettermen (there are 23 back) came the other day here when the head man himself, Munn, called the group together and said: "Anybody out here who has ever lost a college game raise their hands."

You know the answer. Not a single hand was raised.

Despite the pressure he and his team will be under in this, their baptismal year in the roughest and toughest of all conferences, Biggie is a relaxed guy as he guides his charges in the two-a-day workouts.

Probably he should be, too, for he has plenty of that good material left and he says that the "progress has been real good" in the early phases of the new regime, set up by the loss of the two-platoon system.

SOME FEARS are expressed that the Michigan State backs, who will have to play defense, too, may find the going rough, perhaps more so than some other clubs.

Biggie doesn't seem to get too excited about that, explaining that "it puts us all over a barrel but I'm not going to complain about the rule although I've been against it."

"My reaction," he continued, "is that football is for the players. Boys shouldn't be sitting on the bench eating their hearts out to get in there and play."

What problems Biggie has, in addition to teaching defense to a backfield unit which had only one man, Jimmy Ellis, in a defensive role last year, seems to be centered around the center and fullback slots.

At fullback he probably will go with Evan Slonac, one of the pony backs who won the fullback post last year when injuries sidelined Wayne Benson and Dick Panin. Crowding him is a returning serviceman, Gerry Planutis, a '23-year-old, 180-pound sophomore.

All-American Dick Tamburo, the snapper-back and linebacker of the 1952 champions, is gone and the center post is expected to be filled by Jim Neal, a 210-pound senior who was the offensive operator last year. One of the squad's new men, Joe Badaczewski, a 210-pound sophomore from Seanoor, Pa., has gained Biggie's eye and Joe should be heard from this season.

GOING DOWN the lineups at this stage we find Bill Quinlan, a 6-foot 2 1/2-inch sophomore and Captain Don Dohoney, a defensive star for two seasons, at the end; Jimmy Jebb, 187-pound senior who saw action in a reserve capacity last year, and Bob Breniff, 200-pound senior, at the tackles, and Ferris Hallmark, 185-pound senior,

Harry "The Hat" Wins MVP Prize

MONTREAL, Sept. 11 (AP) — Harry (The Hat) Walker, player-pilot of the pennant-winning Rochester Red Wings has been named by sports writers as the International Baseball league manager of the year.

Vic Wall of the Springfield Union, president of the circuit's Baseball Writers' association, announced the choice today through International league headquarters.

Walker gained the honor in a nip and tuck battle with Jack Tighe, Buffalo Bisons' manager.

Walker, whose Wings won the playoffs and Junior World Series last season, has been managing for three years. Now 35, he broke into pro ball in 1937 and 10 years later hit .363 to win the National league batting championship.

Cubs Win 7th In Row, 5-2 Over New York

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs today made the New York Giants their seventh straight victim, 5-2, matching their longest winning streak since 1945.

The Cubs combed three New York pitchers for 11 hits as big Bob Rush fashioned his ninth victory via a neat four-hitter — the Giants getting two hits for their final run in the ninth.

Ruben Gomez, who started and lasted only three innings, suffered his ninth loss as the Cubs scored all their runs during a three run first and two run third.

Ralph Kiner and Clyde McCullough wrapped productive singles around Randy Jackson's run-making fly in the first. Jackson teamed with Kiner to chase Gomez, a 13-game winner, after the third.

Kiner delivered a one out triple to the deepest point in center field, and Jackson followed with a drive over the left field screen for his 19th homer.

Thereafter Sal Maglie and Al Corvin combined to check the red hot Cubs on four hits during the final five innings.

New York scored in the sixth when Maglie walked with one out and rode to third on Whitey Lockman's double. Then Maglie scored on Don Mueller's infield out.

Under Wells at right half are Bert Zagers, a junior; Ellis Duckett, an end last year but a halfback in high school, and a newcomer, Travis Buggs. Not much is expected of Buggs this year but he was Indiana state dash champion and watch out for him in a couple of years.

Under Bolden is one of the team's standouts, Jim Ellis, the fastest thing in football uniform on this or any campus.

Ellis, who made the Players All-American team two years in a row, is the Spartans' No. 1 defensive back and punt return specialist. Known as "Diamond Jim" because of his flashy clothes and flashy car, Jim was picked as the outstanding player in the annual Green-White game last spring.

The Spartans have two new opponents, Iowa, which is met in the opening game, and Texas Christian. The November schedule is the rough one, for Ohio State and Michigan, arch rivals, are met on successive weeks.

OF BOLDEN, Coach Munn has this to say: "Anybody who beats Bolden out of a job on this club will have to be a pretty good boy."

Trucks Wins No. 19 By Beating A's, 9-4

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11 (AP) — Virgil Trucks helped seal his 19th victory tonight with his first home run of the season and a single as the Chicago White Sox jumped off to an early lead and then coasted home 9-4 over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Trucks moved within one game of his biggest goal—to be a 20-game winner in the major leagues. He had it easy as the Sox rapped lefty Morris Martin for four runs in the first two innings, including Trucks homer with a man on in the second. They added three in the sixth, and two in the ninth.

The pestiest batter on the A's side was Tommy Giardano, a rookie second baseman recently recalled from the A's Savannah, Ga., farm club.

After the rookie struck out in the second, he belted his first hit, a home run into the lower left field stands in the fourth. In the sixth he singled to help put a runner in scoring position.

Under Wells at right half are Bert Zagers, a junior; Ellis Duckett, an end last year but a halfback in high school, and a newcomer, Travis Buggs. Not much is expected of Buggs this year but he was Indiana state dash champion and watch out for him in a couple of years.

Under Bolden is one of the team's standouts, Jim Ellis, the fastest thing in football uniform on this or any campus.

Ellis, who made the Players All-American team two years in a row, is the Spartans' No. 1 defensive back and punt return specialist. Known as "Diamond Jim" because of his flashy clothes and flashy car, Jim was picked as the outstanding player in the annual Green-White game last spring.

The Spartans have two new opponents, Iowa, which is met in the opening game, and Texas Christian. The November schedule is the rough one, for Ohio State and Michigan, arch rivals, are met on successive weeks.

Redlegs' Outburst Hands Roberts His 14th Defeat

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski clouted his 39th homer of the year to lead a Cincinnati Redlegs' seventh inning rally that defeated the Philadelphia Phillies tonight 6-5. The big spurge knocked out Robin Roberts, who was after his 22nd win but instead suffered his 14th loss.

Big Ted's blow with none aboard knotted the score. Jim Konstanty relieved Robin in the fateful frame, after Andy Seminick's two-bagger drove in two more Cincinnati runs and pitcher Harry Per-kowski's safety scored another. It was Perkowski's 12th victory. However, he needed the help of Jackie Collum in the eighth when the Phils countered with three runs. Jackie ran into trouble in the ninth and Frank Smith came on to put down another Philadelphia rally.

For Roberts it was the fourth straight start he failed to finish and his sixth loss in his last seven decisions.

Gray Wins 9th Tigers Defeat Yanks, Reynolds in 10th Inning, 3-2

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Lefty Gray temporarily halted the New York Yankees' pennant march today as he pitched and batted the Detroit Tigers to a teninning 3-2 victory over the American League leaders.

The 28-year-old Gray scored the winning run after hitting a triple with one out. Harvey Kuenn followed with a long fly to center, delivering Gray with the tally.

The Yankees' only runs came on homers by Joe Collins and Yogi Berra. Collins' blow, his 16th, gave the Yankees a 1-0 lead in the first inning and Berra's tied the score in the sixth after the Bengals had gone ahead with two markers in the fifth. It was Berra's 26th home run of the season.

Big Chief Allie Reynolds, preparing for a World Series start, went

Gray, in picking up his ninth victory against 14 losses, has now beaten the Yankees twice this season. He has lost to them four times. Reynolds' defeat was his seventh. He has won 11.

The Tigers scored twice in the fifth on a walk to Bob Nieman, Walt Dropo's single, an infield out and Johnny Burch's two-bagger. Gray, who gave up only six safeties, was superb in the pinches. The Yankees threatened to take the lead in the eighth when Collins walked, and Berra singled with one out. But the stylish southpaw bore down to retire Mickey Mantle on a fly and Gene Woodling on strikes.

In the tenth, Hank Bauer singled with two out but Gray got Berra on a long drive which Steve Souchock grabbed near the right field barrier.

Harry "The Hat" Wins MVP Prize

MONTREAL, Sept. 11 (AP)—Harry (The Hat) Walker, player-pitcher of the pennant-winning Rochester Red Wings has been named by sports writers as the International Baseball league manager of the year.

Vic Wall of the Springfield Union, president of the circuit's Baseball Writers' association, announced the choice today through International league headquarters.

Walker gained the honor in a nip and tuck battle with Jack Tighe, Buffalo Bisons' manager.

Walker, whose Wings won the playoffs and Junior World Series last season, has been managing for three years. Now 35, he broke into pro ball in 1937 and 10 years later hit .363 to win the National league batting championship.

24-Game Winning Streak

EAST LANSING, Mich., Sept. 11 (AP)—They led the lambs into Macklin field here the other day, perhaps a bit early for Spartan treatment. And, although the lambs were the prize possessions of 4-H clubbers in a state-wide competition, the action served as a preliminary to the football slaughter that seems sure to come when rival coaches lead their star performers into the mighty Michigan State fair.

The national champion Spartans, riding along on a 24-game winning streak and the object of everyone's affections in this, their first year in the Big Ten, should be up there again even though the ouster of the two-platoon system may play havoc with their little backs.

When you look over this Spartan squad of 67 men, you are impressed with their individual appearance. No 250-pounders, but each one rough and rugged and ready to go for Biggie Munn and his staff of assistants.

A TIP-OFF on the class of this outfit, despite the loss of 21 lettermen (there are 23 back) came the other day here when the head man himself, Munn, called the group together and said: "Anybody out here who has ever lost a college game raise their hands."

You know the answer. Not a single hand was raised.

Despite the pressure he and his team will be under in this, their baptismal year in the roughest and toughest of all conferences, Biggie is a relaxed guy as he guides his charges in the two-day workouts.

Probably he should be, too, for he has plenty of that good material left and he says that the "progress has been real good" in the early phases of the new regime, set up by the loss of the two-platoon system.

SOME FEARS are expressed that the Michigan State backs, who will have to play defense, too, may find the going rough, perhaps more so than some other clubs. Biggie doesn't seem to get too excited about that, explaining that "it puts us all over a barrel but I'm not going to complain about the rule although I've been against it."

"My reaction," he continued, "is that football is for the players. Boys shouldn't be sitting on the bench eating their hearts out to get in there and play."

What problems Biggie has, in addition to teaching defense to a backfield unit which had only one man, Jimmy Ellis, in a defensive role last year, seems to be centered around the center and fullback slots.

At fullback he probably will go with Evan Slonec, one of the pony backs who won the fullback post last year when injuries sidelined Wayne Benson and Dick Panin. Crowding him is a returning service man, Gerry Planutis, a 23-year-old, 180-pound sophomore.

All-American Dick Tamburo, the snapper-back and linebacker of the 1952 champions, is gone and the center post is expected to be filled by Jim Neal, a 210-pound senior who was the offensive operator last year. One of the squad's new men Joe Badaczewski, a 210-pound sophomore from Seaton, Pa., has gained Biggie's eye and Joe should be heard from this season.

GOING DOWN the lineups at this stage we find Bill Quinlan, a 6-foot 2 1/2-inch sophomore and Captain Don Dohoney, a defensive star for two seasons, at the ends; Jimmy Jebb, 187-pound senior who saw action in a reserve capacity last year, and Bob Breniff, 200-pound senior, at the tackles, and Ferris Hallmark, 185-pound senior, and Larry Fowler, 200-pound senior, at the guards.

Breniff was a guard on offense last year and Fowler was a tackle. Two outstanding newcomers may bid for the end spots. One is Carl Diener, a 6-foot 2 1/2-inch Saginaw product who reported in at 242 and now is down to 217 pounds, and John (Big Thunder) Lewis, an all-Ohio backfield star at Fremont, Ohio, who is a 6-foot 4-inch sophomore.

Tom Yewic, who did such a fine all-around job last year, is the returning quarterback and among candidates here is one highly rated—Earl Morrill, a soph from Muskegon who did such an outstanding job in the Spring practice when he handled the quarterbacking job while Yewic worked with the baseball team.

Two of the nation's outstanding runners hold the halfback jobs. LeRoy Bolden, the 168-pound package of dynamite, operates out of the left side and, last fall, as a sophomore, he scored 54 points while averaging 7.8 yards per carry. Billy Wells, the "Menominee Meteor," who was the Spartans' offensive workhorse last year, is the right half.

OF BOLDEN, Coach Munn has this to say: "Anybody who beats Bolden out of a job on this club

Cardinals Beat Pirates, 5-3

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates took advantage of Vinegar Bend Mizell's wildness to break up his shutout with three ninth-inning runs tonight but reliever Al Brazie salvaged a 5-3 victory for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Mizell, gaining his 13th triumph, allowed just four hits before he left the game but two walks, a wild pitch, a long fly and another walk produced the first Pittsburgh run and set the stage for two others.

Two sharp singles by Frank Thomas and Carlos Bernier off Hal White, who took over for Mizell drove in the other tallies before Brazie halted the Pirate rally.

Senators Spoil Lemon's Bid for 20th

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Washington spoiled Bob Lemon's bid to become the first American League pitcher to win 20 games tonight when the Senators spurned for three runs in the eighth inning to defeat Cleveland, 6-4.

The loss prevented the Indians from gaining on the front-running New York Yankees who lost to Detroit in the afternoon. The runner-up Indians trail by 10 games.

The Indians tied the score at 3-3 against winner Spec Shea with two runs in the eighth inning, but the Senators bounced back to hand Lemon a 14th loss with their upsurge in the same session.

Shea, who posted his 12th win, had a no-hitter for a 4-2-3 innings before George Strickland doubled.

The Senators gave Shea a quick lead in the first inning when Eddie Yost tripped and scored on Mickey Vernon's double.

Washington boosted its advantage to 3-0 in the fifth. Wayne Terwilliger singled and came around on Ed Fitz Gerald's double. Yost scored Fitz Gerald with a single.

Singles by Al Rosen, Wally Westlake and Dale Mitchell produced Cleveland's first run in the seventh and the Indians tied the score in the eighth when Lemon

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

PICKETS from Mohnton, near Reading, walk in front of the Sweet Orr and company incorporated mill, Sixth and Johnson streets, in a futile effort to persuade the 180 workers to stage a sympathy walkout. The Mohnton strike, over a wage dispute, is two weeks old. Yesterday saw the pickets' first visit to Pottstown. The Pottstown Sweet Orr mill was in production as usual, it was reported by Howard P. Jarvis, manager. The Mohnton mill makes work shirts. The Pottstown mill makes official Boy Scout shirts.

This beautiful stucco home represents the fruits of six years of labor by its owner, Alex J. Czarick, and the man who helped him build it. Located at the corner of Jackson and Henry streets, near the Brookside Country club, the home contains six rooms and a bath, a complete cellar and a side porch. There are two large bedrooms upstairs and two downstairs. In addition there is a large 18 by 16-foot living room and a combination kitchen and dinette. All the landscaping and shrubbery planting was done by Czarick, who also plans to build a garage alongside the house near the porch. He'll add shutters to the windows sometime in the near future. Czarick said he and Melvin Stropp, a carpenter who now works for Hunter brothers, started building the house about six years ago. In addition to himself, his wife and two children, Mary Joan and David, live in the house. Another son, Alex is presently attending the University of Detroit.

200 BOY SCOUTS ATTEND PREMIER MOVIE SHOWING

Area Troops Also See Presentation of Scouter's Key

More than 200 Boy Scouts from the Pottstown area attended the premier showing of "Mr. Scouter-master" last night at the Hippodrome theater.

In addition to seeing the motion picture, the Scouts also witnessed the presentation of the Scouter's key to James L. Undercoffer, troop committeeman of Emmanuel Lutheran church Troop 8, at intermission.

The presentation was made by Harold Rohn, district training chairman.

Prior to entering the theater, approximately 125 Boy Scouts from the Continental district, which comprises the Pottstown area, assembled at the armory at King street.

THE SCOUTS, under the leadership of Harry Shellenberger, district commissioner, then marched out King to Charlotte street; down Charlotte and up High to the theater.

Richard D. Dutcher, district Scout executive, who assisted in making the arrangements, reported that about 15 troops were represented at the showing.

Dutcher also pointed out that the New Hanover Troop 1, with Charles Pfleger, as scoutmaster, was admitted free by Ray Meyer, theater manager, for having the greatest number of boys present.

In preparation for the Scouting Fair, which will be held Oct. 9 and 10 at Devon Horse Show grounds, along Route 30, near Paoli, Dutcher mentioned that a gigantic rally will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Junior High school auditorium.

HIGHLIGHTING the rally will be a personal appearance by Rex Trailer, television cowboy, who will entertain the group.

A dramatization on "How to Sell Tickets" will be presented by Edward Whitby and Mrs. Florence Manthorne.

The Boy Scout who has sold the most tickets to date for the fair will receive a gift certificate good for $5 worth of merchandise at the New York store.

Another prize will be offered to the boy with the second highest number of tickets sold. He will receive an autographed baseball from the Philadelphia Athletics.

Aside from this, there will also be a one-hour showing of various cartoons and comedies.

Three Area Court Cases Set for Trial At County Sessions Starting Monday

Three Pottstown area cases, including a man accused of going to an area restaurant intending to kill his wife, are scheduled for trial in Montgomery county criminal court's session opening Monday.

Thirty-two Pottstown area residents have been selected for jury duty during the week.

William Francis Kolis, 27, is accused of going to Lakeside inn, along Route 422 in Limerick township with a 22 caliber rifle and with the intent to kill his wife, a waitress there.

State police, who arrested him, credited two area men, Elmer Waldo Feick, 535 King street, the chef, and Paul Geunes, 99 Main street, Spring City, a handyman of subduing Kolis after he mistook another waitress for his wife.

During the melee, the rifle went off, but the bullet hit no one.

Kolis is listed for trial Monday before Judge William F. Dannehower.

CHAS. E. MESSANETONIO, Pottstown man facing Federal charges of forging checks stolen from a postal relay station, will face trial on charges arising out of burglaries that occurred while he was out on bail on the Federal charges.

He is scheduled for trial Monday before President Judge Harold G. Knight on charges of burglary and larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy to commit burglary and larceny.

State and local police said he was implicated in the burglary of a South Hanover street cafe. Two other men, facing a similar charge, must first clear up charges against them in Berks county, in connection with the burglary of the Boyertown American Legion post home.

Frederick Spezio, young former resident of Pottstown and Douglassville, is slated to face trial Monday before Judge George C. Corson on charges of operating a motor vehicle after suspension or revocation of operating privilege.

THE PAST Spring, Spezio was in and out of trouble with Pottstown police, on charges of assault and battery by automobile. He was cleared of these charges by a Pottstown justice of the peace, over the protests of police who arrested him.

Area jurors are: A. G. Albright, Schwenksville; Mary Baker, 1152 High street; Oliver Bechtel, Main street, Trappe; Pearl Bernhart, 520 Beech street; Florence Brey, Sunnyside; Walter I. Brown, 1214 North Franklin street; Granville E. Clouse, 799 North Franklin street; Horace Coleman, Collegeville RD 2; Ruth Cornish, 167 Main street, Trappe; Waldo Dick, 811 North Charlotte street; Mary Eschbach, 40½ King street; Martha Good, 1040 High street.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Public Utility commission today denied a proposal to vacate a portion of Harry street in Conshohocken to permit abolition of two railroad grade crossings there.

"The Pennsylvania and Reading railroads sought in a joint plea to close the street between Elm and Washington streets so the crossings near the stations could be eliminated.

The borough had opposed the plan on the grounds that it would create a traffic hazard.

EX-MAYOR NAMED TO POST
HARRISBURG, Sept. 11 (AP)—Former Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia was appointed today by Gov. John S. Fine as a member of the Delaware river port authority.

COURT ORDERS PROBATION FOR BOROUGH MAN

Drabinski Must Repay Finance Company Loan

A Pottstown man was put on probation for a year and ordered to repay a finance company the $225 he borrowed under false pretenses.

Stanley Drabinski, 32 Myrtle street, Penn Village, received this sentence yesterday from Montgomery County Judge E. Arnold Forrest after he pleaded guilty.

Matthew Miller, manager of Mathew Finance corporation, 254 High street, testified that when Drabinski borrowed the $225, he claimed that he didn't owe money to anyone else.

Later investigation showed that he owed another loan company and was behind payments on installment-plan furniture, Miller testified.

DRABINSKI admitted he'd done wrong and noted that at the time, he was about to be released from Norristown State hospital and that his wife was living now in Shendandah, Schuylkill county.

Judge Forrest said a jail term would not enable Drabinski to repay the money. He ordered him to repay the loan at the rate of $15 a month and to pay the cost of prosecution, about $72.

music supervisor and junior choir director. The Lamb music studio will be in charge of training the school band.

School will begin at 8 a. m. on Monday with a mass for all pupils in the lower church.

Forty-five new desks for the Second grade have not yet arrived, Father Begley reported. The class will meet temporarily in the cafeteria, which will delay serving meals until Sept. 21.

The playground behind the school has been newly hardsurfaced for the new term. Blacktopping of the 150 by 140-foot area was completed by W. R. Croasdale on Thursday.

The area will be used as a parking lot for parishioners during Sunday masses, Father-Begley said.

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

On Thursday, Sept. 17, between the hours of 1 and 6:30 P.M., the Red Cross is calling for more urgently needed blood. This time they are collecting it at the Y.W.C.A.

But unlike previous times, the Red Cross is offering a free insurance program for all members of your family. By simply donating and giving a pint of your blood, you and your family are guaranteed free blood for one year, should you need it.

Perhaps many of you know how costly blood can be. Many times even minor sicknesses or accidents require transfusions costing hundreds of dollars. So it does seem like good common sense to give that pint and take advantage of this offer.

Fifty percent of the blood you give goes to the armed services. Even though the war in Korea is over, the lives of the disabled veterans of Korea are still not saved. Those boys need your pint of blood. It seems like small payment for their sacrifice.

The other 50% of all blood collected goes to a civilian blood program. A major portion of this blood goes into making gamma-Globulin, the best known medicine for helping fight Polio.

So phone 3055 for an appointment to give blood at the YWCA, Thursday, September 17. We guarantee it can't weaken you or hurt you. But it can give you a sense of personal pride and well-being that money can't buy.

See you next Saturday.

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

This beautiful stucco home represents the fruits of six years of labor by its owner, Alex J. Czarick, and the man who helped him build it.

Located at the corner of Jackson and Henry streets, near the Brookside Country club, the home contains six rooms and a bath, a complete cellar and a side porch.

There are two large bedrooms upstairs and two downstairs. In addition there is a large 18 by 16-foot living room and a combination kitchen and dinette.

All the landscaping and shrubbery planting was done by Czarick, who also plans to build a garage alongside the house near the porch. He'll add shutters to the windows sometime in the near future.

Czarick said he and Melvin Stropp, a carpenter who now works for Hunter brothers, started building the house about six years ago.

In addition to himself, his wife and two children, Mary Joan and David, live in the house. Another son, Alex, is presently attending the University of Detroit.

200 BOY SCOUTS ATTEND PREMIER MOVIE SHOWING

Area Troops Also See Presentation of Scouter's Key

More than 200 Boy Scouts from the Pottstown area attended the premier showing of "Mr. Scoutmaster" last night at the Hippodrome theater.

In addition to seeing the motion picture, the Scouts also witnessed the presentation of the Scouter's key to James L. Undercoffer, troop committeeman of Emmanuel Lutheran church Troop 8, at intermission.

The presentation was made by Harold Rohm, district training chairman.

Prior to entering the theater, approximately 125 Boy Scouts from the Continental district, which comprises the Pottstown area, assembled at the armory at King street.

THE SCOUTS, under the leadership of Harry Shellenberger, district commissioner, then marched out King to Charlotte street; down Charlotte and up High to the theater.

Richard D. Dutcher, district Scout executive, who assisted in making the arrangements, reported that about 15 troops were represented at the showing.

Dutcher also pointed out that the New Hanover Troop 1, with Charles Pfleger, as scoutmaster, was admitted free by Ray Meyer, theater manager, for having the greatest number of boys present.

In preparation for the Scout-fair, which will be held Oct. 9 and 10 at Devon Horse Show grounds, along Route 30, near Paoli, Dutcher mentioned that a gigantic rally will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Junior High school auditorium.

HIGHLIGHTING the rally will be a personal appearance by Rex Trailer, television cowboy, who will entertain the group.

A dramatization of "How to Sell Tickets" will be presented by Edward Whithy and Mrs. Florence Manthorne.

The Boy Scout who has sold the most tickets to date for the fair will receive a gift certificate good for $5 worth of merchandise at the New York store.

Another prize will be offered to the boy with the second highest number of tickets sold. He will receive an autographed baseball from the Philadelphia Athletics.

Aside from this, there will also be a one-hour showing of various cartoons and comedies.

Three Area Court Cases Set for Trial At County Sessions Starting Monday

Three Pottstown area cases, including a man accused of going to an area restaurant intending to kill his wife, are scheduled for trial in Montgomery county criminal court's session opening Monday.

Thirty-two Pottstown area residents have been selected for jury duty during the week.

William Francis Kolis, 27, is accused of going to Lakeside inn, along Route 422 in Limerick township with a 22 caliber rifle and with the intent to kill his wife, a waitress there.

State police, who arrested him, credited two area men, Elmer Waldo Feick, 535 King street, the chef, and Paul Geunes, 99 Main street, Spring City, a handyman of subduing Kolis after he mistook another waitress for his wife.

During the melee, the rifle went off, but the bullet hit no one.

Kolis is listed for trial Monday before Judge William F. Dannehower.

CHARLES MESSANETONIO, Pottstown man facing Federal charges of forging checks stolen from a postal relay station, will face trial on charges arising out of burglaries that occurred while he was out on bail on the Federal charges.

He is scheduled for trial Monday before President Judge Harold G. Knight on charges of burglary and larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy to commit burglary and larceny.

State and local police said he was implicated in the burglary of a South Hanover street cafe. Two other men, facing a similar charge, must first clear up charges against them in Berks county, in connection with the burglary of the Boyertown American Legion post home.

Frederick Spizio, young former resident of Pottstown and Douglassville, is slated to face trial Monday before Judge George C. Corson on charges of operating a motor vehicle after suspension or revocation of operating privilege.

THE PAST Spring, Spizio was in and out of trouble with Pottstown police, on charges of assault and battery by automobile. He was cleared of these charges by a Pottstown justice of the peace, over the protests of police who arrested him.

Area jurors are:

A. G. Albright, Schwenksville; Mary Baker, 1152 High street; Oliver Bechtel, Main street; Trappe; Pearl Bernhart, 520 Beech street; Florence Brey, Sumneytown; Walter I. Brown, 1214 North Franklin street; Granville E. Clouse, 799 North Franklin street; Horace Coleman, Collegeville RD 2; Ruth Cornish, 167 Main street; Trappe; Waldo Dick, 811 North Charlotte street; Mary Eschbach, 40½ King street; Martha Good, 1040 High street;

COURT ORDERS PROBATION FOR BOROUGH MAN

Drabinski Must Repay Finance Company Loan

A Pottstown man was put on probation for a year and ordered to repay a finance company the $225 he borrowed under false pretenses.

Stanley Drabinski, 32 Myrtle street, Penn Village, received this sentence yesterday from Montgomery County Judge E. Arnold Forrest after he pleaded guilty.

Matthew Miller, manager of Matthew Finance corporation, 254 High street, testified that when Drabinski borrowed the $225, he claimed that he didn't owe money to anyone else.

Later investigation showed that he owed another loan company and was behind payments on installment-plan furniture, Miller testified.

DRABINSKI admitted he'd done wrong and noted that at the time, he was about to be released from Norristown State hospital and that his wife was living now in Shenandoah, Schuylkill county.

Judge Forrest said a jail term would not enable Drabinski to repay the money. He ordered him to repay the loan at the rate of $15 a month and to pay the cost of prosecution, about $72.
